BULLETIN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, winner of the Republican presidential nomination, today picked Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland as his running mate.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Announcement was expected momentarily on Richard M. Nixon's choice of a running mate following his first-ballot Republican presidential nomination early today despite industrial state opposition.

The Republican nominee, vaulting back from what he once thought was political oblivion, bowled over Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California in a smoothly organized convention assault.

Delegates erupted in a turbulent shouting, band-blaring, sign-waving demonstration when Wisconsin was reached on the state roll call. Nixon had sewed up the 30 Wisconsin votes in a primary and it was those votes which put him over the 667 count necessary for the nomination.

"I was ready, I was willing and the events were such that the party wanted me . . . ," Nixon commented.

At the storied 3 o'clock in the morning, celebrated in an old song, Nixon got a call from the man he thinks he will oppose in November, Vive President Hubert H. Humphrey.

There was some unreported banter between the two friendly enemies, each wary of an unexpected cut from an opponent with the respected ability of expert fencers to deliver a political wound. They joked about a vice president's combatant society, Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., reported.

The call came at a time when Nixon was winding up a meeting at which he listened to the views of about 25 congressional and other supporters about his choice of a second man. He was said to have pressed some for more detail about their support of individual possibilities.

Barry Goldwater, the 1964 nominee, and Sen. Hiram Fong of Hawaii said after this morning's meeting that the nominee listened to a wide variety of suggestions without comment

City's 'Jungles' Keep On Growing

There has been a marked change since this newspaper published a story July 25 citing some of the many spots where weeds were growing in profusion in violation of a 1967 city ordinance.

The weeds are higher than ever!

The hot sun and a couple of bountiful rains in the intervening 13 days produced the "marked change" in most instances—making the weed growth taller and heavier.

But some of the rank growth was hacked off, probably as a result of the publicity spotlight. Weeds which nearly hid a big curbside mailbox on Dresden Ave. have been chopped down, along with some others in the vicinity. And some of the weeds have been cut along the guardrails on the Lisbon St. Hill.

BUT FOR the most part the heavy weed growth noted two weeks ago is heavier than ever.

The rank growth still persists in front of a billboard on Washington St. just south of E. 3rd St. And behind the billboard, on a short embankment, the saplings and the weeds have flourished in the hot, damp summer weather.

The area near the sidewalk in the same stretch is covered thickly with tall weeds. The growth includes goldenrod, bane of hay fever sufferers, which has burst into bloom since the first weed survey. The weeds are just as dense along the sidewalk on E. 2nd St., east of Washington St., a city-owned lot which is leased to a private firm.

Wild carrot plants are in bloom, and the milkweed plants are beginning to mature their seed pods.

ONE SPOT overlooked in the same area in the original survey boasts a thick crop of weeds. Its a vacant lot at the northwest corner of E. 2nd St. at Broadway.

It's a vintage year for weeds in East Liverpool, all right, ordinance or no ordinance.

The ordinance provides that no weeds or grass shall be allowed to grow to a height of more than 18 inches.

A separate section covers so-called "noxious" weeds. It provides that if the city receives notice that such weeds are growing anywhere inside the corporate limits "and are about to spread and mature seeds," that Council shall take steps to see that they are cut promptly.

The ordinance requires Council to serve a notice on the owner, lessee or tenant telling him to cut the weeds within five days. If no action is taken, Council is empowered to hire the necessary labor and equipment to have the work done at the owner's expense.

U.S., South Units Invade A Shau Valley

Hit Suppply Base In Bid To Blunt Expected Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — American and South Vietnamese troops have invaded the A Shau Valley for the second time in three and a half months, disrupting the major Communist supply base again as part of their campaign to blunt the big enemy offensive expected in the next month or so.

A fleet of 200 helicopters landed more than 3,000 soldiers of the U.S. 101st Air Cavalry Division and the Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division in the valley in the northern part of South Vietnam Sunday and Monday, but announcement of the operation was withheld until today for security reasons.

'Minimal Resistance'

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the allied force has met with "minimal resistance" so far. Probably warned by the heavy air activity that preceded the invasion, the North Vietnamese presumably pulled back across the nearby Laotian border.

U.S. headquarters reported that 15 North Vietnamese troops had been killed in the first four days of the operation. U.S. losses were two dead and 22 wounded, while eight South Vietnamese were killed and 18 wounded.

Three helicopter gunships were shot down during the first minutes of the massive assault by 200 troop-carrying helicopters and their escorts. One crashed and burned, killing a crewman and injuring three others. But the antiaircraft fire was scanty compared to the heavy barrages that destroyed or damaged 129 U.S. helicopters during the first invasion of the valley in April.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that government troops uncovered an enemy base camp containing 50 barracks. Searching the structures, the South Vietnamese found an assortment of ammunition including 10 rockets and 15 cases

'He Who Hesitates Is Lost'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's failure to win the Republican presidential nomination almost surely will be recorded as a classic example of the time-worn adage, "He who hesitates is lost."

If it is possible to blame any one element for Rockefeller's undoing, it is that he entered the race much too late.

"It all goes back to March 21," said former Rep. William E. Miller, the 1964 GOP vice-presidential nominee, who labored in Rockefeller's cause this time.

On that chilly spring day in Manhattan, Rockefeller jolted political professionals and dismayed ardent admirers by announcing that he would not seek the nomination.

He had been expected to fill the void left by the withdrawal of Michigan Gov. George Romney, whom Rockefeller had encouraged to carry the so-called moderate Republican banner against Nxion.

Rockefeller had been beseeched by a wide variety of influential Republicans across the nation, including several governors, to declare his candidacy. They had taken his many previous disclaimers of interest as stalling tactics and had assumed he would now agree that the time had come to make his move.

Not quite six weeks later, Rockefeller went before another news conference, this time in Albany, N.Y., and declared that he had changed his mind—he now would pursue the nomination with "all my heart."

But damage had been done to his prospects. He not only lost valuable campaign time but also the allegiance of supporters.

If Rockefeller came in too late, it certainly was not with too little.

The multimillionarie mounted a campaign fueled by lavish expenditures of money and energy.

He poured millions of dollars —the latest estimate is $5 million, but rivals believe the figure is much higher—into a dazzling advertising campaign, a heavily staffed campaign headquarters and a jet-powered air caravan that criss-crossed the nation many times.

Rockefeller pitched for support through an outpouring of professionally produced television spot commercials and a series of full-page ads in major newspapers throughout the country.

He wanted to show his strength in public opinion polls and thereby persuade party leaders that he was the candidate they needed for a sweeping GOP victory in November. After a faltering start, the polls gradually began to turn his way.

Officals Of Mine Won't Talk With Newsmen About It

GREENVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rescue workers began the slow process today of carrying out the bodies of nine miners reported killed Wednesday in a fiery explosion in a coal mine shaft near here.

A mine employe, who asked to remain unidentified, said the rescue workers had found eight bodies in one area of the mine. The body of the ninth miner was found nearby, he said.

The employe said it would take some time for the workers to bring the victims to the surface because the shaft area was small. The first body was discovered at about 4 a.m. EDT today—14 hours after the accident was reported.

Sidestep Newsmen

Throughout the rescue operation and the reported finding of the bodies, mine officials, police and other authorities have refused to discuss the accident with newsmen.

The entire area leading to the River Queen mine entrance was cordoned off soon after the accident and newsmen have not been permitted in.

Ohio's Governor True To Promise

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio was true to his promise.

Rhodes ran as Ohio's favorite son and stuck to that position early today on the only ballot needed at the Republican National Convention to nominate Richard M. Nixon as the party's presidential candidate.

But as Nixon wrapped up his second presidential nomination when the roll call reached Wisconsin, Ohio jumped on the bandwagon and cast its 58 votes for the former vice president.

'Will Carry Ohio'

Rhodes immediately pledged his support to the nominee and said "Dick Nixon will carry Ohio in November."

Fifty-five Ohio votes went to Rhodes during the balloting; two were given to Nixon and one to Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota.

Rhodes was swarmed by newsmen asking for an explanation of his uncommitted status. Pounding one hand into the other, Rhodes said, as he had scores of times during the convention:

"In February, we filed as an uncommitted delegation. We remained as favorite son in March, April, May, June, July, right up into the convention."

"We came to the convention united. We're returning home united. We're the most consistent delegation on the premises."

He again repeated he was not interested in the vice presidential nomination.

Won't Accept VP

"I will not accept it. I just don't want to be vice president. I'd rather be governor of Ohio."

Rhodes was under pressure position here as head of the large bloc of uncommitted votes but he refused to yield to any efforts that he feared might split the Ohio GOP.

"We have a unified party in Ohio," Rhodes said, pledging an all out effort for Nixon this fall. Nixon won Ohio in 1960, beating John F. Kennedy by 273,000 votes. Ohio was the only northern industrial state that Nixon carried in 1960.

U.S. Steel Makes Key Move

Improvement, LBJ Says Of New Prices On Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — After steel price increases settled at more moderate levels Wednesday, President Johnson said the new prices are "a substantial improvement from the general inflationary threat."

Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, said the new price levels "significantly reduced the threat of a large and general inflation in steel prices. Compared to the threat last week, American consumers have been saved a half billion dollars inflation."

U.S. Steel, the nation's top producer, made the key move Wednesday by announcing price hikes more modest than those posted earlier by other big firms.

Within hours, Bethlehem, Republic, Armco and Inland said their earlier boosts of virtually all products would be pared down to match U.S. Steel's selective increases.

'Continuing Progress' Of Ike Pleases Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today they were pleased with the continuing progress former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is making after his newest major heart attack.

They also relayed a statement from Eisenhower saying he was "delighted" over the nomination of Richard M. Nixon to be the Republican presidential candidate.

Eisenhower spent a restful night at Walter Reed Army Hospital, where he suffered his latest heart attack early Tuesday, the doctors said.

Medical attendants relayed the word of Nixon's nomination to him during the night when he awoke spontaneously.

The formal medical bulletin on Eisenhower said "Gen. Eisenhower spent another restful night. Vital signs remain stable. The doctors report that they are pleased with the general's progress."

There have been cardiac irregularities since the attack, described as major, Tuesday morning but they have not been pronounced, doctors reported Wednesday.

They indicated optimism over the 77-year-old, five-star general's condition after his third heart attack in three months and sixth since 1965 by limiting medical bulletins to one a day unless his condition worsens.

Eisenhower has not been allowed to watch the Republican National Convention on television since suffering the attack Tuesday morning, but has received reports from his son,

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP)— It took a policeman, the fire department and an animal control officer to dispossess five skunks from an apartment house shed.

Patrolman Steve Marshall tossed a tear gas grenade in their direction. The skunks volleyed back.

Ventilating fans in the apartment house picked up the fumes. Its seven residents, caught in the crossfire, beat a hasty retreat.

Steve Berry, an animal control officer, finally trapped the skunks. Firemen pumped out the building with a big exhaust fan so the inhabitants could return.

Marshall and Berry had to throw away their clothing. And it required two washings to deskunk Berry's truck.

Nixon is not without his detractors among the military.

"I'm a little disappointed with the Republicans," said John Front of Britton, S.D., "Two years ago there were six or seven Republican possibilities and all of a sudden we're back to the same old thing—Nixon. I'm just not enthused about it, I'd rather see Rockefeller."

Navy Won't Revise Contract Despite Defrauding Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy says it won't revise a contract with a rocket-launcher supplier, despite the firm's indictment on charges of defrauding the government in earlier contracts.

The indictment returned by a federal grand jury Wednesday accused the firm and four individuals of feeding more than $3 million through sham subcontractors into Swiss bank accounts.

The indictment also charged the defendants with receiving over a half million dollars in kickbacks from another firm.

The defendants named in the indictment were Chromcraft Corp.; Alsco Inc. of St Louis; Andrew L. Stone, Alsco's main stockholder and chief executive officer; Francis J. Rosenbaum, director and special counsel; Evelyn R. Price, Stone's executive secretary, and Robert B. Bregman, president of Bregman Electronics Inc. of New York City.

Chromcraft Corp. merged with Alsco in 1966. Since 1962, Chromcraft and Alsco have been the Navy's sole supplier of 2.75-inch rocket launchers.

The Navy told the House Appropriations Committee in March that the launchers are patented by Chromcraft and Alsco.

"The time which would be required to develop a similar Navy-owned item and to get a new manufacturer into production is completely prohibitive," said the Navy.

The Associated Press reported exclusively that the Justice Department investigation of Alsco already was under way when the Navy awarded the contract for $13.9 million July 23.

The indictment said Chromcraft fed $3,407,284.23 to Swiss bank accounts through Scientific Electronics Ltd. and Bregman Electronics Inc. from 1963 through 1966. The indictment said the money was supposedly for equipment, but none was ever furnished.

The indictment said kickbacks of $663,481.05 were furnished by Western Molded Fibre Products Inc. of Gardena, Calif., which supplied parts to Chromcraft.

AIRBORNE firefighters in Vietnam utilize a system developed by the U.S. Forest Service. The helicopters use a 450-gallon fiberglass "aerial fire bucket" which can douse a 120-by-30-foot area. The buckets are filled in a 15-second dipping operation from a nearby stream or river and then flown to the blaze where the water is released.

McCarthy Says War Burden On Poor, Working People

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said Wednesday the burden of the Vietnam war has fallen "most heavily on the backs of the working people and the poor people of America."

"These are the people who have sent their sons in overwhelming number to the battlefield," he told the International Typographical Union convention.

The Democratic presidential hopeful spent about 10 hours in Ohio Wednesday making speeches and seeking to win state delegates to the party's national convention in Chicago Aug. 26.

The Minnesota senator urged delegates to remain uncommitted and called the state "critical" to his convention hopes.

Delegates will caucus Monday in Columbus on whether to remain committed to the favorite son candidacy of U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young. They have 115 votes at the convention.

Starting his swing through the state in Columbus, McCarthy addressed several thousand supporters at a Statehouse rally.

He urged them to do everything they could to indicate to delegates what the judgment of Ohio people was.

Georgia state legislator Julian Bond, a Negro, introduced McCarthy in Columbus and later in Cleveland said he was endorsing his candidacy for the presidential nomination.

McCarthy also gained support during the day from Patrick J. Lucey, former lieutenant governor and state Democratic chairman of Wisconsin who was a key political supporter of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Lucey described the response from Ohio delegates as "encouraging."

From Columbus McCarthy flew to Cleveland where he taped a television program and then spent three hours cloistered with delegates in a suite at the Hotel Sheraton-Cleveland.

After his speech to the ITU convention McCarthy returned to Washington.

Key Official Is Kidnaped In Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Uruguayan government says it won't compromise with pro-Peking terrorists who kidnaped a key official in an attempt to force a softening of President Jorge Pacheco Areco's austerity program.

The largest manhunt in the country's history was under way for Dr. Ulises Pereira Reverbel, head of the state electric and telephone company, and a male secretary. They were kidnaped Wednesday by four members of the Tupamaro National Liberation Front. Armed with machine guns, the kidnapers wounded Pereira's chauffeur and another secretary.

Reverbel, 48, a wealthy cattle rancher, lawyer and close adviser to the president, had been a strong advocate of Pacheco's crackdown on labor agitation and his program of belt tightening to check inflation.

A leaflet distributed by the front said Reverbel was kidnaped "as a warning that nothing will remain unpunished and that popular justice will be exercised through the most convenient channels."

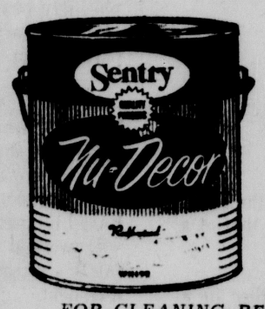

The leaflet accused Pacheco of "having sold our country to North American capital through the International Monetary Fund and through the meddling of neighboring dictatorship."

A government spokesman, who described the front as a Peking Communist group, said: "The government will not deal with delinquents—they are extremist elements who are out to intimidate but will not succeed."

Authorities said Reverbel's chauffeur identified two of the terrorists, saying they were Jorge Amilcar Llueveras, 38, a minor union leader, and Eloises Rivero Cedres, 30, a former Socialist militant. Both are known in left-wing circles as Peking Communists.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Uruguayan government says it won't compromise with pro-Peking terrorists who kidnaped a key official in an attempt to force a softening of President Jorge Pacheco Areco's austerity program.

The largest manhunt in the country's history was under way for Dr. Ulises Pereira Reverbel, head of the state electric and telephone company, and a male secretary. They were kidnaped Wednesday by four members of the Tupamaro National Liberation Front. Armed with machine guns, the kidnapers wounded Pereira's chauffeur and another secretary.

Reverbel, 48, a wealthy cattle rancher, lawyer and close adviser to the president, had been a strong advocate of Pacheco's crackdown on labor agitation and his program of belt tightening to check inflation.

A leaflet distributed by the front said Reverbel was kidnaped "as a warning that nothing will remain unpunished and that popular justice will be exercised through the most convenient channels."

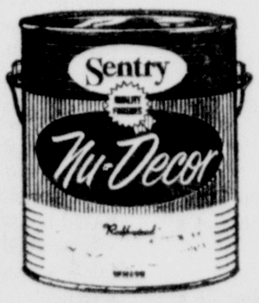

The leaflet accused Pacheco of "having sold our country to North American capital through the International Monetary Fund and through the meddling of neighboring dictatorship."

A government spokesman, who described the front as a Peking Communist group, said: "The government will not deal with delinquents—they are extremist elements who are out to intimidate but will not succeed."

Authorities said Reverbel's chauffeur identified two of the terrorists, saying they were Jorge Amilcar Llueveras, 38, a minor union leader, and Eloises Rivero Cedres, 30, a former Socialist militant. Both are known in left-wing circles as Peking Communists.

The Outlook For Nixon

It has been a long path for Richard M. Nixon from the disheartening close presidential race of 1960, from the bitter defeat for governor of California once again to the national helm of the Republican party.

Nixon, who has carefully trod the election comeback trail from county-level confabs and talks with GOP leaders in all echelons to tests of popularity in state primaries, handily overcame late-starting Nelson Rockefeller and Ronald Reagan at the convention early today.

The former vice president has tempered a number of his philosophical attitudes to adjust to changes in his party, in this nation. He has accomplished his nomination with a minimum of friction and discord, a contrast to the 1964 convention.

The Republicans and Nixon now face the real task of their political obligation in the two-party system—to prove to Americans they can bring honorable and workable solutions to the problems which face the country—the Vietnam war, increasing violence and crime in the streets, inflation, urban deterioration and others.

Unity has been a key word in Nixon's vocabulary these past few months, and the Grand Old Party is expected to close ranks to meet the Democrat standardbearer in November.

This year, perhaps more than any other period in U.S. history, the presidential candidates are going to have to come up with something other than cliche-loaded oratory and vague promises.

Political bombast has no place in meeting the realities of today, in preparing for vital decisions with straightforward honesty which increasing numbers of Americans, young and old, are demanding of their leaders.

Nixon can win, despite the claims of his GOP opponents at Miami Beach this week. But he and the Democrat nominee are going to have to get down to specifics in a hard fought battle for the White House this fall. This is the year answers must be given, solutions offered—not for the campaign, but for the future of this nation.

U.N. Middle East Irony

The always-tense Middle East is heating up again despite persistent efforts by United Nations peacemaker Gunnar Jarring.

Israeli planes knocked out two Jordanian bases Sunday and struck deep in Jordanian territories yesterday, killing five Arab commandos.

As usual, Jordanian officials said the attacks were unprovoked and Israeli spokesmen said they were in response to guerrilla raids by Arab terrorists.

AND SO IT GOES. A peaceful settlement of Israeli-Arab disputes is as remote as ever.

It is reported that Mr. Jarring will continue his search for peace until the first of the year at the insistence of the United Nations.

The U. N. role in the Middle East is becoming more complicated and tinged with irony.

Member of the U.N. organization desperately want peace in the Middle East. That is why a U.N. representative remains on the job in the face of overwhelming adds against his success.

Meanwhile, back in New York, the United Nations already is on record condemning Israeli strikes into Jordan and warning that additional activity could bring further action.

Jordan is now calling on the U.N. Security Council to proceed with the "further action" in retaliation for recent strikes by Israel.

UNDER THE U.N. charter, the additional action could take the form of diplomatic or economic sanctions or even military measures.

Should the U.N. employ extreme measures, we would have a situation that finds the U.N. aligned against a state it created because that state tried to protect itself from enemies the U.N. opposed in 1948.

Mr. Jarring must continue in his attempt to find a solution to the enigmatic state of affairs for there is no alternative but it is easy to see why hope that he will be successful is so dim.

Chancy Game Of Politics

One of the most surprising statements at the Republican National Convention in Miami comes from a man who has had little to say, although he is a legal candidate.

Harold Stassen, making his fourth attempt at the Republican nomination, has indicated this may be his last try.

If the 1968 affair should prove to be the last for the 61-year-old Stassen, a lot of people would be happy.

The one-time bright prospect for the GOP standard bearer role has been the butt of many jokes because of his repeated attempts and repeated failures.

There is no question that Mr. Stassen should have quit a long time ago. But there is an air of pathos about a man who was once so near his fondest dream only to be shoved further and further away year-by-year.

Politics is a chancy game at best. There are only a few big winners. The losers must know how to accept defeat to keep from being destroyed.

Mr. Stassen never learned to be a good loser.

New Tourist Promotions

A thought-provoking piece of news has just been released by the Wyoming Travel Commission.

The commission is preparing a map to show where Wyoming's ghost towns would be located if they were still in existence.

We couldn't resist the temptation to speculate about projects travel promoters could work up for other states.

For instance, brochures could be distributed showing where monuments would have been erected for men who would have had brilliant careers had they been elected president.

Each major league baseball city could have a special redwood pennant pole monument complete with a notch for every time its team would have won the league title if it wouldn't have folded in the stretch.

Tucked in with other tourist pamphlets should be a list of all the great American novels that never quite got written and all the great plays that were never set down on paper.

Hollywood could put out a tabloid about all those who would have attained stardom if they would have had talent.

The New York Stock Exchange could place bronze plaques on its walls for all those companies that would have been the glory of the business world if they hadn't gone under.

The list is endless. There is enough material to keep tourist committees busy until the end of the season—and then some.

It Was In The Hat!

Unconventional

By Art Buchwald

MIAMI BEACH — As everyone knows, a national political convention is held specifically for the benefit of the press and the radio and television media. In the case of the Miami convention a certain number of Republicans were invited by the press to participate in the festivities.

Art Buchwald

I'm sorry to report that instead of playing a subsidiary role, the Republicans have tried to take over the convention and make it into their own show. This has caused a great deal of bitterness among the thousands of correspondents who have come here from all over the world. They feel that the Republicans have taken advantage of the press media's hospitality and that the Republican party has turned what was supposed to be a serious convention into a three-ring circus.

HAZLITT HARBINGER, chairman of National Political Convention Press Club who was in charge of arrangements in Miami, said, "I find it inexcusable that the Republicans have made it appear that the correspondents only have a secondary role at this convention."

"Could you give me some examples, Mr. Harbinger?"

"Well, it was our understanding when we said the Republicans could come to Miami that they would sit in the balcony and participate as spectators. But instead they took over the platform of the convention hall, they grabbed the best seats on the floor and, because of their sheer numbers, they've made it impossible for the news media to do their job."

"In retrospect do you think it would have been better if the correspondents had said no Republicans would be accredited to the convention?"

"This is a free country, and you can't say to Republicans that they can't come to a Republican National Convention. But I do feel certain safeguards have to be set up so the press media can get going with America's business."

"WHAT SAFEGUARDS were you thinking of?"

"I think in the future we have to restrict the number of Republicans that are permitted into a Republican caucus. The hotel lobbies must be kept clear of Republicans so television can do its job. There should only be one Republican permitted on the convention hall platform at any time.

"We have to keep the political speeches to a minimum so that the TV correspondents can do more in-depth reporting. And I am going to suggest in the future that the official state Republican delegates be placed in the back of the convention hall so they won't block the view of the newspapermen, who after all have the responsibility of nominating a political candidate."

"Would your freeze on Republicans extend to the Republian candidates themselves?"

"NO, I WOULDN'T go that far. I think in his own way Richard Nixon has as important a role to play at this convention as Walter Cronkite, and Nelson Rockefeller and his wife Happy have as much reason to be here as David Brinkley and Chet Huntley. My gripe is with the run-of-the-mill Republican who still thinks the Republican National Convention, and they all want to get in."

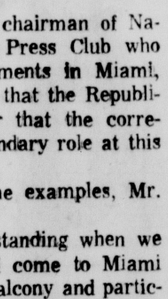

"What can you do about him?" I asked.

"I really don't know. The trouble is that you let one Republican into a national convention, and they all want to get i."

VICTOR RIESEL

Democrats Have Labor Bloc

WASHINGTON — At the command post of the largest single bloc of delegates to the Democratic National Convention, there will be no confusion, no electronic intelligence system, no walky-talkies, no speedboats ready to rush stragegists up and down the lake. That bloc and its leaders know exactly what they want and how to get it. It's the labor bloc.

Victor Riesel

It's made up of the nation's most powerful union chiefs. And they might, with no overstatement, be described as the nation's most influential men at the moment.

Few analysts realize that labor does have the biggest single phalanx of delegates to the Chicago nominating hoedown. There will be 180 delegates and about 100 alternates. This outweighs the New York and California contigents.

What adds weight to their already ponderous influence is their spread. They're not from just a handful of states, but range through 42 delegations all the way from Alaska to Lousiana.

As one of them said recently:

"I will not talk to you in generalities, I'll talk to you at random. In the New York block is Tammany Hall chairman, Frank Rosetti, vice president of the Operative Plasterers.

"MICHIGAN will send the militant firebrand Gus Scholle, head of the state AFL-CIO. And from Louisiana will come Vic Bussie, head of that state's federation. If that is not considered a sampling of influence, then the word has no meaning."

What must be understood is that the play's the thing, not just their votes. These men are the most skilled bargainers this side of the White House. In many regions, Democratic candidates simply have to come to the state labor leaders for money and imagery.

Thus, inside their delegations, the labor executives have standing matching that of the Democratic chairmen, and sometimes even that of a governor or two.

And these are but a few.

At the strategic moment they'll gather in a caucus in the Hotel Drake, the site of labor's central command post in Chicago, which will be personally directed by George Meany.

This is traditional. No Democratic convention would, without contemplating mass politicalcide, nominate candidates without first consulting this caucus.

THAT GOES for the vice presidency, too. It was labor which approved Harry Truman. Labor vetoed Alben Barkley. It was labor which switched from Hubert Humphrey to Jack Kennedy, and then almost vetoed a Texan named Lyndon Johnson in 1960.

And why not? It's the fantastic AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE), networking through some 1,500 communities, which actually is the Democratic party in a score of states.

They've taken the count. They know they have enough votes for their candidate, Hubert Humphrey, to toss a couple. They know they're ahead, said one wit, because Walter Reuther walked with Hubert Humphrey publicly in Watts.

BUT THEY ARE running scared.

They know you just don't have a contract until it's signed. No man is nominated until he's making his acceptance speech. They know of the unbelievable pressure relentlessly pouring out of the McCarthy camp.

They know that Hubert Humphrey is taking no chances, and has Larry O'Brien making the rounds with that genial and shrewd counter pressure which sparked the Kennedy machines.

But not only do the labor leaders want to count their man in, they want to count Gene McCarthy out of the second slot as well. He's not their kin. He's not their kind of man.

RAYMOND MOLEY

2-Party Goals

Many thousands of Republican voters in New York state face a serious dilemma. Should they, because they believe in a two-party system, support candidates whom they do not admire and whose principles they do not share? Or should they reject such candidates and vote for the candidates of the new Conservative party?

After very considerable deliberation based upon my observation of the behavior of the major Republican leaders in this state, my answer to the second question is "yes." And I base this conclusion on the proposition that such support for a minority party for the next few years is the best means of restoring real two-party politics in the state.

For the actions of these leaders since 1960, specifically Nelson Rockefeller, Jacob Javits, John Lindsay and, in 1964, Kenneth Keating, have, in effect, made the New York Republican party a "splinter" party in revolt against the national GOP.

IN 1936, a Labor party was formed in New York state. In 1946, powerful leaders of that party abandoned it and formed the Liberal party.

Thereafter, that "splinter" party forced the Democratic party to accept its principles and to rely upon Liberal endorsement for the margin of victory of many of its candidates.

This corruption of the Democratic party might not have injured the two-party system in the state if the Republican leaders had pulled their party together and had offered a real alternative to the Democratic-Liberal alliance.

But the four Republican leaders named above chose another course. Instead of opposing Liberal policies, they adopted them and by wheeling and dealing sought to steal the Liberal party from the Democrats. Their slogan has been that the GOP can win only by winning Democratic and independent Liberals, an argument currently used by Rockefeller in his quest for the presidential nomination.

As early as 1961 Rockefeller sought an alliance with the Liberals in the contest for mayor of New York City. Earlier, in 1960, his support of the Richard Nixon-Henry Cabot Lodge ticket was substantially nonexistent. In 1964, as we all know, the "big three," Rockefeller, Javits and Keating, refused to support the national GOP ticket.

And Rockefeller set the pattern of "extremism" against Barry Goldwater which Lyndon Johnson so effectively used in the national campaign. The effect of this was that the Republican party of New York virtually withdrew from the national party. In 1965, Lindsay openly created an alliance with the Liberals in the campaign for mayor.

And so to create a counterforce to the Liberal party and to offer an ideological choice for abandoned Republicans, the Conservative party was formed in 1962. Its founders were two young and idealistic lawyers, J. Daniel Mahoney and Kieran O'Doherty. (The exciting story of the long labors and high principle which attended the growth of that party is told in a new book by Mahoney: "Actions Speak Louder.")

THE NEW PARTY made surprising gains until, in 1966, its vote surpassed that of the Liberal party and thus won for itself the important Row C on the ballot.

In local campaigns the Conservative party gives its endorsement to Republican candidates when it believes to be sympathetic with its principles. In statewide contests it offers candidates on its line in the ballot.

Its primary objective is to force the Republican party in the state to return to its role as a real opposition to the Democratic-Liberal coalition. And this is an objective to which all true believers in a two party system might well subscribe.

The ancient Romans wrote on lead, coined money out of it and even ate off it, and the result was often lead poisoning. Inhaled, consumed or absorbed through the skin, lead accumulates in the body and results in weakness, cramps and anemia.

The game of rounders, an old English game which has been credited with being an ancestor of baseball as far back as 1748, is still played in Great Britain among school children.

At the strategic moment they'll gather in a caucus in the Hotel Drake, the site of labor's central command post in Chicago, which will be personally directed by George Meany.

This is traditional. No Democratic convention would, without contemplating mass politicalcide, nominate candidates without first consulting this caucus.

THAT GOES for the vice presidency, too. It was labor which approved Harry Truman. Labor vetoed Alben Barkley. It was labor which switched from Hubert Humphrey to Jack Kennedy, and then almost vetoed a Texan named Lyndon Johnson in 1960.

And why not? It's the fantastic AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE), networking through some 1,500 communities, which actually is the Democratic party in a score of states.

They've taken the count. They know they have enough votes for their candidate, Hubert Humphrey, to toss a couple. They know they're ahead, said one wit, because Walter Reuther walked with Hubert Humphrey publicly in Watts.

BUT THEY ARE running scared.

They know you just don't have a contract until it's signed. No man is nominated until he's making his acceptance speech. They know of the unbelievable pressure relentlessly pouring out of the McCarthy camp.

They know that Hubert Humphrey is taking no chances, and has Larry O'Brien making the rounds with that genial and shrewd counter pressure which sparked the Kennedy machines.

But not only do the labor leaders want to count their man in, they want to count Gene McCarthy out of the second slot as well. He's not their kin. He's not their kind of man.

2-Party Goals

Many thousands of Republican voters in New York state face a serious dilemma. Should they, because they believe in a two-party system, support candidates whom they do not admire and whose principles they do not share? Or should they reject such candidates and vote for the candidates of the new Conservative party?

After very considerable deliberation based upon my observation of the behavior of the major Republican leaders in this state, my answer to the second question is "yes." And I base this conclusion on the proposition that such support for a minority party for the next few years is the best means of restoring real two-party politics in the state.

For the actions of these leaders since 1960, specifically Nelson Rockefeller, Jacob Javits, John Lindsay and, in 1964, Kenneth Keating, have, in effect, made the New York Republican party a "splinter" party in revolt against the national GOP.

IN 1936, a Labor party was formed in New York state. In 1946, powerful leaders of that party abandoned it and formed the Liberal party.

Thereafter, that "splinter" party forced the Democratic party to accept its principles and to rely upon Liberal endorsement for the margin of victory of many of its candidates.

This corruption of the Democratic party might not have injured the two-party system in the state if the Republican leaders had pulled their party together and had offered a real alternative to the Democratic-Liberal alliance.

But the four Republican leaders named above chose another course. Instead of opposing Liberal policies, they adopted them and by wheeling and dealing sought to steal the Liberal party from the Democrats. Their slogan has been that the GOP can win only by winning Democratic and independent Liberals, an argument currently used by Rockefeller in his quest for the presidential nomination.

As early as 1961 Rockefeller sought an alliance with the Liberals in the contest for mayor of New York City. Earlier, in 1960, his support of the Richard Nixon-Henry Cabot Lodge ticket was substantially nonexistent. In 1964, as we all know, the "big three," Rockefeller, Javits and Keating, refused to support the national GOP ticket.

And Rockefeller set the pattern of "extremism" against Barry Goldwater which Lyndon Johnson so effectively used in the national campaign. The effect of this was that the Republican party of New York virtually withdrew from the national party. In 1965, Lindsay openly created an alliance with the Liberals in the campaign for mayor.

And so to create a counterforce to the Liberal party and to offer an ideological choice for abandoned Republicans, the Conservative party was formed in 1962. Its founders were two young and idealistic lawyers, J. Daniel Mahoney and Kieran O'Doherty. (The exciting story of the long labors and high principle which attended the growth of that party is told in a new book by Mahoney: "Actions Speak Louder.")

THE NEW PARTY made surprising gains until, in 1966, its vote surpassed that of the Liberal party and thus won for itself the important Row C on the ballot.

In local campaigns the Conservative party gives its endorsement to Republican candidates when it believes to be sympathetic with its principles. In statewide contests it offers candidates on its line in the ballot.

Its primary objective is to force the Republican party in the state to return to its role as a real opposition to the Democratic-Liberal coalition. And this is an objective to which all true believers in a two party system might well subscribe.

Odd Facts

The ancient Romans wrote on lead, coined money out of it and even ate off it, and the result was often lead poisoning. Inhaled, consumed or absorbed through the skin, lead accumulates in the body and results in weakness, cramps and anemia.

The game of rounders, an old English game which has been credited with being an ancestor of baseball as far back as 1748, is still played in Great Britain among school children.

Local Option, Sewer Bonds Due On Ballot

Resolutions were filed Wednesday with the County Election Board asking a vote at the November general election on a local option question in West Township and a $500,000 bond issue in Columbiana for extension of the village sewage disposal system.

A West Township committee asked a vote on the five-question local option ballot covering sales of beer, wine and spirituous liquors for consumption on or off the premises and establishment of a state liquor store. The township has three precincts. It lies in far western Columbiana County, adjacent to Stark County.

The Columbiana proposition provides the funds would be used for "construction and reconstruction of force mains, pumping stations and sanitary sewers." A levy to retire the bonds would be in effect for 25 years.

Meanwhile, Judge James L. McDonald of Southwest Area County Court at Lisbon remained unopposed for a new four-year term after the filing deadline passed Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Former county prosecutor, McDonald has held the nonpartisan post since Jan. 1, 1959.

Work Begins On Sidewalks

Construction of a new sidewalk in the Springlane area is now underway by Guy Gingerella and Sons of Midland.

The 1,200-foot length of old sidewalk from the traffic signal to the west end of the borough on the south side of Midland Ave. has been removed.

Workmen are now preparing the structural forms and base material to receive the new concrete.

The Midland Municipal Authority awarded the contract for $3,150 in June.

The authority was spurred to action because a number of Springlane residents had complained they were tripping over uneven sidewalk sections.

Receives Promotion

PITTSBURGH — Gerald F. Aerts has been promoted to the position of assistant district sales manager of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) office of the National Steel Corp., it has been announced by John J. Gallagher, vice president - sales.

Water Lines Action Taken At Industry

INDUSTRY — Council Wednesday night approved ordinances authorizing service and fire hydrant agreements with the Industry Municipal Water Authority.

The agreements cleared the way for the authority to receive federal funds to expand present water lines. The borough will pay an annual rental fee of $90 for each of the 56 hydrants when the expansion is complete.

Councilmen will attend a public hearing on a proposed zoning ordinance next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the fire hall. Residents are urged to attend to become acquainted with the new ordinance.

James Muns, roads chairman, said the bulk of the work accomplished in July was on Willowbrook East. The road was widened at points.

Muns said oiling of streets has been completed and that some patching will be done on borough roads.

Resurfacing of Ohioview streets is set for Aug. 19. Due for resurfacing are Hice Ave., Ohioview Dr., Upland Dr., Allison Dr. and a drainage ditch on Avondale Dr.

Mayor Steve Suchanec's report listed 17 complaints, one arrest and 2,200 miles logged on the cruiser in June and 19 complaints, two accidents, one arrest and 2,220 miles logged for July.

General bills paid totaled $20,266. The next regular meeting will be Sept. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Chief Hendershot said her car struck a tree, causing $700 damage to the car.

Intruder Obtains $3 At Mulberry St. Bar

An intruder obtained only $3 to $4 when he broke into the Silver Star Cafe on Mulberry St. between 3 and 5 this morning, police reported.

The burglar broke a pane of glass in a rear door and then reached through the opening to manipulate the lock.

He overlooked the day's receipts, which were hidden in the tavern, but took $3 to $4 which had been set aside for payment of state sales tax, according to Paul Jones, the owner.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The world's first working hydrogen-filled balloon was developed by French physicist J. A. C. Charles and the Robert brothers. The nonmanned silk sphere, 13 feet in diameter, was launched in Paris Aug. 27, 1783. After traveling 15 miles in 45 minutes, the balloon landed and was immediately destroyed by terrified French peasants.

One of those bystanders, a middle-aged man wearing a green work uniform said: "I've been in mining all my life and my brother-in-law is down there, and I know there is no chance."

The explosion rocked a shaft inside the mine with a series of blasts. A miner who had been working in a nearby area, said, "The blast knocked you down every time you got up—just like a cyclone."

Nixon

and told them "I'll decide today."

MacGregor, Midwest chairman for Nixon, has been plugging for Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City for a spot Lindsay says he wouldn't accept. But another name mentioned frequently was that of Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon. Hatfield has been a dove on the Vietnam war, as opposed to Nixon's harder line. He lists himself as a liberal, to the left of the position Nixon occcupies.

But there was a long list of possibilities, including the names of both Rockefeller and Reagan, despite their constant denials they would not accept second place.

Among others were Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, and Govs. George Romney of Michigan and John A. Volpe of Massachusetts.

When the initial and only roll call was completed after a wearying 7½ hours of convention nominating and seconding speeches, Nixon had chalked up 692 votes. This was only eight short of the 700 total the former vice president's camp had been claiming for 10 days.

Rockefeller Gets 287

Rockefeller got 287, Reagan 182 and the holdout favorite sons —including Romney and Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio—accounted for the remainder of the 1,333.

But Nixon's victory was fashioned with only dribbles of support in six industrial states of New York, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey where the November election could be decided.

The only big state which went for Nixon on the showdown roll call— which immediately was made unanimous in the customary bow to party unity—was Illinois.

"Generally Nixon was the choice of the South, the Midwest and the far West. He was supported by nine of the 11 states of the Confederacy, with North Carolina and Arkansas dissenting.

Nixon personally felt, he said, that he won the nomination "in a way designed to win the election." He seemed to base this on the belief that party unity would result from the restraint of his lieutenants in attempting to break apart the Rockefeller, Reagan and favorite son delegations.

This pattern, he said, helped him win the nomination "without having to pay any price or make any deals" involving second place on the ticket.

Nixon said he will pick a running mate who "in my view will work best with me. I will have to choose whom I think is the best man."

Reporters Mention Issue

Reporters brought up the issue of whether he had assured southern delegates that he would not shove down their throats a second man they regarded as undesirable.

"I have made that same statement to delegations from northern states," Nixon said. "I want a candidate that will not divide this country. So I don't intend to pick a candidate that won't be acceptable to the North, just as I don't want to pick one that would be unacceptable to southern states."

This seemed to point to such a selection as Hatfield, rather than to Lindsay or Rockefeller who are not liked in the South.

It seemed to rule out Baker, or some other fringe southerner who would satisfy the South but wouldn't please the northern areas.

Almost everybody who might —and even some of those who might not—be under consideration for second place on the ticket busied himself denying that he knew anything about the nominee's intentions.

Hatfield, who denied his early conversion to Nixon's cause was based on any hope for second place, said he hadn't talked to Nixon for two days.

"My phone hasn't rung yet," he said. "I'm not anticipating anything."

The possibility of Hatfield's selection nearly upset the Mississippi delegation's decision to cast its 20 votes for Nixon. And Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who marched to the podium to renounce his nonexistent hopes for the presidential nomination in favor of Nixon, scurried about southern delegations before the balloting to assure them that it wouldn't be Hatfield.

Reports persisted that Nixon might pull a name out of the hat, that he wanted a governor equipped to deal with the executive problems of the cities as his second man if elected.

Grim-faced and far from happy, Rockefeller advised reporters at a news conference after his defeat not to waste time speculating on the possibility that he might take a vice presidential nomination.

Former Sen. William F. Knowland of California said that "absolutely" the photogenic Reagan could not be enticed into helping decorate the Nixon ticket. It was the smiling Reagan's motion that the convention accepted to make Nixon's nomination unanimous.

The Nixon votes were cast by Rep. John Ashbrook and Charles M. Cole, who had backed Nixon all along. The lone Stassen vote was cast by Paul M. Walter Jr., who made a seconding speech for Stassen's nomination.

Rhodes was placed in nomination by Dr. John Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, who called him Ohio's "dynamic governor."

of .50-caliber machine gun ammunition. More than 4,000 pounds of rice also had been left behind.

Enemy Bunker Complex

Just outside the eastern edge of the valley, units of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalary Division uncovered an enemy bunker complex and another weapons cache that included five mortar tubes and assorted equipment, five antiaircraft machine guns, one recoilless rifle and 30 pounds of explosives.

The first allied visit to the valley lasted a month, and the American and South Vietnamese troops are not expected to stay long this time either. The valley is at the end of the allied supply line and is often closed in by clouds and fog; and U.S. officers say it would take a division of troops to control it.

A U.S. spokesman said the invason is considered a spoiling attack to cut the enemy supply and infiltration lines and "do what other damage we can before the monsoons begin this fall."

Scores of air strikes and reconnaissance flights last week preceded the weekend troop landing, and B52 bombers dropped 1,800 tons of explosives. Two helicopters and an F100 Supersabre fighter-bomber were shot down over the valley last Friday by heavy antiaircraft

The A Shau Valley is considered the biggest base area the Communist command has in South Vietnam. The valley extends 25 miles from northwest to southeast near the Laotian border and varies in width from 500 yards to 3½ miles.

Trucks starting out in North Vietnam can drive through Laos and down the entire length of the valley, bringing men and munitions for operations in the northern provinces of South Vietnam. The valley is the gateway for the North Vietnamese to Hue, the old imperial capital 27 miles to the northeast, and to Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city 64 miles southeast of the valley.

Both cities are expected to be among the chief targets of the countrywide enemy offensive which the allied commands expect by the middle of September.

In their spring invasion of the valley, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces ran into considerable resistance. The U.S. Command said 603 enemy soldiers were killed and 2,500 weapons captured, while 142 Americans were killed and 720 wounded. A huge quantity of other enemy supplies was destroyed or taken away.

King Antiochus left inscriptions explaining that he chose his grave site as the "utmost ridge" of his kingdom and "in closest proximity to the heavenly throne of Zeus." This is believed to be Nemrud Dagh in southeast Turkey.

Among others were Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, and Govs. George Romney of Michigan and John A. Volpe of Massachusetts.

When the initial and only roll call was completed after a wearying 7½ hours of convention nominating and seconding speeches, Nixon had chalked up 692 votes. This was only eight short of the 700 total the former vice president's camp had been claiming for 10 days.

Rockefeller Gets 287

Rockefeller got 287, Reagan 182 and the holdout favorite sons —including Romney and Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio—accounted for the remainder of the 1,333.

But Nixon's victory was fashioned with only dribbles of support in six industrial states of New York, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey where the November election could be decided.

The only big state which went for Nixon on the showdown roll call— which immediately was made unanimous in the customary bow to party unity—was Illinois.

"Generally Nixon was the choice of the South, the Midwest and the far West. He was supported by nine of the 11 states of the Confederacy, with North Carolina and Arkansas dissenting.

Nixon said he will pick a running mate who "in my view will work best with me. I will have to choose whom I think is the best man."

Reporters Mention Issue

Reporters brought up the issue of whether he had assured southern delegates that he would not shove down their throats a second man they regarded as undesirable.

"I have made that same statement to delegations from northern states," Nixon said. "I want a candidate that will not divide this country. So I don't intend to pick a candidate that won't be acceptable to the North, just as I don't want to pick one that would be unacceptable to southern states."

This seemed to point to such a selection as Hatfield, rather than to Lindsay or Rockefeller who are not liked in the South.

It seemed to rule out Baker, or some other fringe southerner who would satisfy the South but wouldn't please the northern areas.

Almost everybody who might—and even some of those who might not—be under consideration for second place on the ticket busied himself denying that he knew anything about the nominee's intentions.

Hatfield, who denied his early conversion to Nixon's cause was based on any hope for second place, said he hadn't talked to Nixon for two days.

"My phone hasn't rung yet," he said. "I'm not anticipating anything."

The possibility of Hatfield's selection nearly upset the Mississippi delegation's decision to cast its 20 votes for Nixon. And Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who marched to the podium to renounce his nonexistent hopes for the presidential nomination in favor of Nixon, scurried about southern delegations before the balloting to assure them that it wouldn't be Hatfield.

Reports persisted that Nixon might pull a name out of the hat, that he wanted a governor equipped to deal with the executive problems of the cities as his second man if elected.

Grim-faced and far from happy, Rockefeller advised reporters at a news conference after his defeat not to waste time speculating on the possibility that he might take a vice presidential nomination.

Former Sen. William F. Knowland of California said that "absolutely" the photogenic Reagan could not be enticed into helping decorate the Nixon ticket. It was the smiling Reagan's motion that the convention accepted to make Nixon's nomination unanimous.

The Nixon votes were cast by Rep. John Ashbrook and Charles M. Cole, who had backed Nixon all along. The lone Stassen vote was cast by Paul M. Walter Jr., who made a seconding speech for Stassen's nomination.

Rhodes was placed in nomination by Dr. John Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, who called him Ohio's "dynamic governor."

of .50-caliber machine gun ammunition. More than 4,000 pounds of rice also had been left behind.

Enemy Bunker Complex

Just outside the eastern edge of the valley, units of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalary Division uncovered an enemy bunker complex and another weapons cache that included five mortar tubes and assorted equipment, five antiaircraft machine guns, one recoilless rifle and 30 pounds of explosives.

The first allied visit to the valley lasted a month, and the American and South Vietnamese troops are not expected to stay long this time either. The valley is at the end of the allied supply line and is often closed in by clouds and fog; and U.S. officers say it would take a division of troops to control it.

A U.S. spokesman said the invason is considered a spoiling attack to cut the enemy supply and infiltration lines and "do what other damage we can before the monsoons begin this fall."

Scores of air strikes and reconnaissance flights last week preceded the weekend troop landing, and B52 bombers dropped 1,800 tons of explosives. Two helicopters and an F100 Supersabre fighter-bomber were shot down over the valley last Friday by heavy antiaircraft

The A Shau Valley is considered the biggest base area the Communist command has in South Vietnam. The valley extends 25 miles from northwest to southeast near the Laotian border and varies in width from 500 yards to 3½ miles.

Trucks starting out in North Vietnam can drive through Laos and down the entire length of the valley, bringing men and munitions for operations in the northern provinces of South Vietnam. The valley is the gateway for the North Vietnamese to Hue, the old imperial capital 27 miles to the northeast, and to Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city 64 miles southeast of the valley.

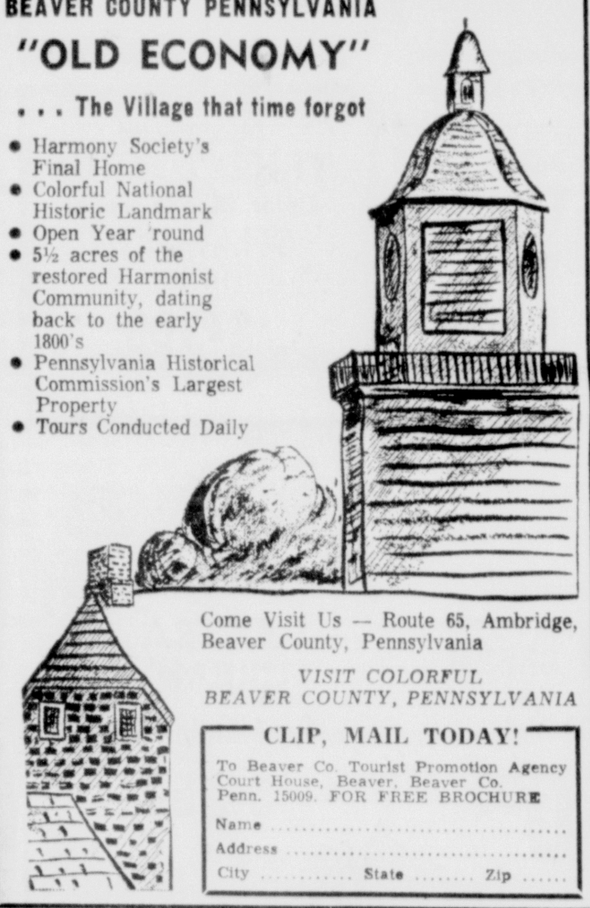

Both cities are expected to be among the chief targets of the countrywide enemy offensive which the allied commands expect by the middle of September.

In their spring invasion of the valley, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces ran into considerable resistance. The U.S. Command said 603 enemy soldiers were killed and 2,500 weapons captured, while 142 Americans were killed and 720 wounded. A huge quantity of other enemy supplies was destroyed or taken away.

King Antiochus left inscriptions explaining that he chose his grave site as the "utmost ridge" of his kingdom and "in closest proximity to the heavenly throne of Zeus." This is believed to be Nemrud Dagh in southeast Turkey.

Young Negroes In Miami Burn Cars, Loot Stores

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bands of young Negroes set fire to cars, stoned white motorists and looted stores in a five-block area of northwest Miami Wednesday night in a disturbance touched off when police massed at a rally aimed at airing problems facing Negroes.

Some 25 persons were injured, including two Negroes who police said were shot by unknown gunmen.

About 100 Negroes were arrested, mostly on charges of disorderly conduct leading to rioting.

Trouble broke out in the predominantly Negro area about 6:30 p.m., several hours before Republican delegates 10 miles away across Biscayne Bay on Miami Beach nominated Richard M. Nixon as their presidential candidate.

Miami Police Lt. Jay Golden said both of the men who were shot were in good condition. He said: "The police have not fired one bullet."

Clarence Curry, 25, was wounded as he was being questioned in a looting case. Golden said two shots rang out in the darkness but no gunman was seen. The other shooting victim, Cephus Griffen, was hit by a stray bullet as he walked along a sidewalk, police said.

Most of the injured suffered cuts from broken glass and bruises from rocks and bottles.

Police said at least 32 stores were broken into and seven were looted. Three cars were burned and two were damaged by rocks.

Four newsmen were among the injured and a man driving a car with a George Wallace bumper sticker was stoned as hundreds of Negroes circled his wreecked automobile. Dazed and bleeding, he was pulled to safety in a bar by two Negroes.

The violence ended after the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leading his Poor People's Campaign at the GOP convention, and Gov. Claude Kirk, a convention delegate, walked through the streets urging calm and conferred with Negro leaders.

The rally was called for Negroes to plan ways to gain more control of their communities. Abernathy and basketball star Wilt Chamberlain were scheduled to attend but had not arrived when trouble started.

Leaders of the rally said the presence of about two dozen policemen caused resentment among young Negroes at the rally.

After a couple of bottles were tossed toward the officers, they were persuaded to leave the area so harmony could be restored.

But the youths then began stoning cars carrying whites, looting and setting trash fires.

Police with riot equipment returned to the area to protect firemen and fired several tear gas shells at a large crowd of Negroes threatening a policeman and a newsman.

Mayor Stephen Clark's pleas for calm were met by jeers and profanity.

Police then greed to pull out several cruisers and as they were moving away a brick smashed a window of the mayor's car. He was not hurt.

The police tossed several tear gas grenades and left the area.

Bob Johnson, one of the organizers of the rally, said "We were trying to give our people some of their black culture. The people we are trying to reach, they can't sit down in peaceful assembly without being harassed."

Q.—When I water my house plants, the water sometimes runs through the soil so quickly that it fails to soak the soil thoroughly. Is there a remedy for this?

A.—Place three or four ice cubes around the outer edge of the soil. These will melt slowly, and the resultant moisture will soak in evenly.

Q.—How can I remove spots from a pair of white kid gloves?

A.—Try moistening a cloth with cuticle remover, and rubbing over the spots with this.

Law Enforcement, Vietnam Platform Planks Suggested

When the Democratic platform committee comes to Columbus next Wednesday, it will be asked by a group of 15 delegates to the national convention in Chicago to include planks spelling out the responsibility for law enforcement on the state, county and city levels and defining limits against Communist aggression, particularly in Southeast Asia.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, 18th Congressional District state central committeeman, said the decision to propose the two planks was made Wednesday during a meeting of the 15 delegates at Columbus.

He explained that the committee will visit Columbus as part of a swing through the nation to hear proposals for its 1968 platform. The Columbus regional session will hear proposals from party members in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Gosney said the Ohio Democrats will point out to the platform committee that the "states' rights" defined in the Constitution place the responsibility for law enforcement within the individual states, first with the governor, then with the counties and finally with mayors of local communities.

"Everybody has been talking about states' rights," he said. "I think they should take care of the ones they have already. If there's a breakdown in law enforcement in this country, the responsibility lies with the state, county and local officials not the President," he added.

Gosney added that a discussion on Vietnam led to a decision by the 15 delegates that the platform "should spell out just how far we are going to let the Communists move before we tell them it is far enough."

He said the platform "should spell out what the limits are going to be. The Republican platform doesn't say how far they would let the Reds move before we do something," he said.

33 Injured As Violent Storm Smashes Windows Of Marina

CADIZ, Ohio (AP)—The dining room of the Tappan Lake Marina was crowded with customers Wednesday when a violent storm smashed windows, showering diners with glass. Thirty - three were injured.

"Every window in the dining room was smashed," said Gladys Holleyoak, one of the Marina's three owners. The room is enclosed on three sides by six-foot windows.

Most of the injured were treated at Twin City Hospital in Denison and released.

Four were admitted and a hospital spokesman said two were in fair condition. Doctors were examining the other two for possible complicated injuries.

The mother of a family of four was transferred to a hospital in Wheeling, W. Va., and two other persons were transferred to Wooster.

The high wind struck the new brick and glass building in Harrison County at 12:45 p.m. shortly after a thunderstorm.

Some boats in the lake sank. Boats on trailers in the parking lots were overturned.

Sheriff's deputies searched the water for possible drowning victims but none was found.

Mrs. Holleyoak said she had no estimate of damage. "We haven't gotten into that yet. The place is in kind of a mess."

Four persons were injured by a storm that struck Barberton, near Akron.

Two women suffered cuts when the storm blew in the front window of a coin-operated laundry. Part of a cement block wall at a greenhouse was blown down, injuring two employes but not seriously.

When the Democratic platform committee comes to Columbus next Wednesday, it will be asked by a group of 15 delegates to the national convention in Chicago to include planks spelling out the responsibility for law enforcement on the state, county and city levels and defining limits against Communist aggression, particularly in Southeast Asia.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, 18th Congressional District state central committeeman, said the decision to propose the two planks was made Wednesday during a meeting of the 15 delegates at Columbus.

He explained that the committee will visit Columbus as part of a swing through the nation to hear proposals for its 1968 platform. The Columbus regional session will hear proposals from party members in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Gosney said the Ohio Democrats will point out to the platform committee that the "states' rights" defined in the Constitution place the responsibility for law enforcement within the individual states, first with the governor, then with the counties and finally with mayors of local communities.

"Everybody has been talking about states' rights," he said. "I think they should take care of the ones they have already. If there's a breakdown in law enforcement in this country, the responsibility lies with the state, county and local officials not the President," he added.

Gosney added that a discussion on Vietnam led to a decision by the 15 delegates that the platform "should spell out just how far we are going to let the Communists move before we tell them it is far enough."

He said the platform "should spell out what the limits are going to be. The Republican platform doesn't say how far they would let the Reds move before we do something," he said.

33 Injured As Violent Storm Smashes Windows Of Marina

CADIZ, Ohio (AP)—The dining room of the Tappan Lake Marina was crowded with customers Wednesday when a violent storm smashed windows, showering diners with glass. Thirty - three were injured.

"Every window in the dining room was smashed," said Gladys Holleyoak, one of the Marina's three owners. The room is enclosed on three sides by six-foot windows.

Most of the injured were treated at Twin City Hospital in Denison and released.

Four were admitted and a hospital spokesman said two were in fair condition. Doctors were examining the other two for possible complicated injuries.

The mother of a family of four was transferred to a hospital in Wheeling, W. Va., and two other persons were transferred to Wooster.

The high wind struck the new brick and glass building in Harrison County at 12:45 p.m. shortly after a thunderstorm.

Some boats in the lake sank. Boats on trailers in the parking lots were overturned.

Sheriff's deputies searched the water for possible drowning victims but none was found.

Mrs. Holleyoak said she had no estimate of damage. "We haven't gotten into that yet. The place is in kind of a mess."

Four persons were injured by a storm that struck Barberton, near Akron.

Two women suffered cuts when the storm blew in the front window of a coin-operated laundry. Part of a cement block wall at a greenhouse was blown down, injuring two employes but not seriously.

EL Colts Lead Hagerstown, Contest Suspended In Fifth

Rains plagued the Divisional Colt League Tournament at Marion last night, but the East Liverpool All - Stars took a 5-1 lead over Hagerstown before rain caused the game to be suspended after 4½ innings.

Rain delayed the start until 11:30 and the contest was finally called at 1:20 a. m. when fog made play impossible. The game will be completed tonight at 6 p.m. with the loser then taking on Marion, which edged Newburgh, N.Y. 4-3 in the opener last night.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

McVay Homers

Randy McVay sparked the East Liverpool effort with a three-run homer. East Liverpool scored all its runs in the first inning. John Haney walked and Kim Kemple and Cecil Barker singled for one run. With two down McVay unloaded a tremendous blast over the fence. Vic Reed followed with a double, Dave Grimm walked and Hap Palmer got a single to score Reed.

Fierly, who beat East Liverpool in a Pony League tournament while ptching for Martinsburg, W. Va. a few years ago, came on in relief and allowed no more hits the rest of game. Palmer yielded only three hits, with Corbin doubling and Hendershot singling for a run in the fourth.

Manager Don Smith expects to use McVay to complete the game tonight.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Fans of Ohio U. football know that the Bobcats sport uniforms in green and white, the school colors.

Few, however, know the origin of these colors. Until 1896, OU's colors were light blue and white. That season the Athens school hired Charles G. O'Bleness to coach the football team. O'Bleness, a Dartmouth man, suggested the colors be changed to Dartmouth green and white, and his suggestion was followed. The green and white colors have endured for 72 years.

BILL HESS, current Ohio U. football coach, has had only one losing season in 10 years at the school. That was in 1965, when the Bobcats went 0-10. Hess' teams have lost only 29 games in the other nine years of his tenure.

EITHER OHIO U. or Miami has won the Reese Cup, emblematic of the all-sports championship of the Mid-American Conference, every year since the competition was started in 1956, with the exceptions of 1959, when Bowling Green won, and 1962 when Western Michigan won.

WESTERN MICHIGAN led the Mid-American Conference in attendance last football season with an average of 17,897 a game. Ohio U. was next with 16,234. Following were Bowling Green at 14,830, Miami $14,300, Toledo 13,436, Kent State 12,825 and Marshall 6,020. The conference as a whole ranked 10th in the country with a 13,416 average, a gain of 3.66 per cent.

Brave Rookie Stone Decisions Cubs 10-2

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Young George Stone, two days away from his 22nd birthday, just might have nailed down a permanent job at Atlanta, which is a lot closer to his home town of Ruston, La., than, say, Montreal or San Diego.

"He looked real good to me," Atlanta manager Luman Harris said after the rookie lefty pitched and batted the Braves to a 10-2 victory over Chicago Wednesday night.

"We've got to give him another look or two before deciding on whether to protect him in the draft or not."

Stone, making only his second start of the season, drove in three runs, limited Chicago to six hits, struck out five and walked only one.

"I'd say he passed with flying colors," Harris said.

The league leading St. Louis Cardinals whipped Cincinnati 3-1, Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 6-2 in a late night game, San Francisco nipped Philadelphia 4-3 in a day game and Houston fought off the New York Mets in a game marred by a brawl.

Stone had trouble only with Jim Hickman and Ernie Banks, who hit solo home runs for the Cubs.

And it was his single up the middle with the bases loaded that drove in two runs and broke Ken Holtzman's scoreless inning string at 28. He also singled in a run in the Braves' clinching, five-run seventh inning.

"He's a young man with a good future," Harris said. "We'll have to see some more of him," as reference to the expansion draft to stock the two new teams in Montreal and San Diego.

Ron Fairly and Bob Bailey each drove in two runs and Don Sutton scattered eight hits in Los Angeles' victory over Pittsburgh. Sutton had a five-hitter going into the ninth, when he weakened and finished with an eight-hitter. Donn Clendenon had a homer for the Pirates. The league leading Cardinals, delayed in starting one hour and only 1:56 in whipping Cincinnati. It put them 14 games ahead of the pack and dropped Cincy from second to fourth.

Tim McCarver singled in a Cardinal run in the first and they made it 3-0 in the fifth on doubles by Bobby Tolan and Orlando Cepeda and a single by Phil Gagliano. Pete Rose homered for the losers.

At Houston, the Astros increased a 2-1 lead to 4-1 on Denis Menke's single, Doug Rader's hard-sliding triple and Dick Simpson's sacrifice fly.

The Mets threatened with two out in the ninth before Steve Shea put out the fire.

Mrs. Stoffel Has Net 28 In Golf

Phyllis Stewart won in the B Flight with a 31 net and in the C Flight Gladys Moore had a 28 net and Jane Rudibaugh won by forfeit.

Golf Rained Out, Pickin Places 5th

The second round of the state junior golf tournament at Findlay was canceled by rain yesterday, and in the final tabulation of the first day's results Bill Picking of East Liverpool finished tied for fifth.

Pickin had shot a 76. He will receive a silver bowl for his performance.

Tigers Top Indians Twice, Cleveland Falls 11½ Back

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Keough and Dave Campbell obviously haven't been around long enough to adjust to 1968's Great Hit Famine.

Keough of Oakland and Campbell of Detroit had a total of six major league at bats between them before Wednesday—all of them belonging to the Tiger infielder.

Today they both have their home runs and Keough, fourth member of Oakland's Arizona State Alumni Association, also has a small spot in baseball's record book.

Keough, called up from the minor leagues earlier this week, became the 37th player to hit a homer in his first big league at bat—the 10th one to do it as a pinch hitter—and helped Oakland defeat the New York Yankees 4-3 in the second game of a Wednesday doubleheader. New York took the opener 3-0.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Orioles Win Pair

Campbell, playing in his sixth game, and first as a starter for the Tigers, tagged his first major league hit—a homer naturally—as Detroit defeated Cleveland 6-1.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Boston clipped Chicago 3-2, California dropped Washington 4-2 and Baltimore swept a doubleheader from Minnesota 3-0 and 9-6. Detroit also completed a 5-2 victory over Cleveland in a game suspended after eight innings Tuesday night.

Keough, like teammates Rick Monday, Sal Bando and Reggie Jackson, came to the A's off the Arizona State campus, and was batting .303 at Birmingham of the Southern League when Oakland sold Floyd Robinson to Boston last week and Keough came up.

He got his first major league swing in the eighth inning of the second game with Oakland trailing 3-2 and tagged a Lindy McDaniel pitch into Yankee Stadium's right field seats. That tied the score and two innings later, Jackson, not to be outdone by his old school chum, singled Oakland's winning run home.

In the rain-delayed opener, Mel Stottlemyre won his 15th on a six-hitter with Joe Pepitone's two-run homer providing all the offense he needed.

Campbell's first homer was somewhat less dramatic than Keough's. It came in the eighth inning with the Tigers already enjoying a 4-1 edge.

Detroit packed three runs in the first inning—two of them on Bill Freehan's double. Earl Wilson, with late-inning help from Daryl Patterson, won his 10th and Willie Horton clubbed his 27th home run.

Reliever John Wyatt retired the Indians in the ninth inning of the suspended game to nail down the 5-2 victory.

Ken Harrelson whacked his 29th homer—a two-run shot that led Boston past Chicago. The blow keyed a three-run first inning for the Red Sox and gave Dick Ellsworth enough working room for his 11th victory.

Harrelson, taking dead aim at the Triple Crown, now leads the American League in batting with a .297 mark, in runs batted in with 93 and is second only to Washington's Frank Howard in homers.

Howard smashed his 32nd but it couldn't prevent California from taking Washington. Chuck Hinton, an ex-Senator, did most of the damage, doubling and scoring in the fifth inning and then singling the tie-breaking run home in the seventh after twice failing to sacrifice.

Jim Hardin's six hitter shut out Minnesota in the first game of Baltimore's doubleheader against the Twins with homers by Curt Blefary and Frank Robinson providing the muscle.

In the nightcap, the Orioles just outlasted the Twins with Robinson coming off the bench to touch off a pair of three-run Baltimore rallies. Paul Blair's two-run pinch single and a two-run double by Brooks Robinson keyed the Baltimore comeback.

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Lalu Sabotin, the Warren fire captain and two-time former champ, holds the lead by one stroke today at the half-way mark of the 35th Ohio Publinx Golf Tournament.

Sabotin added a two-under-par 70 Wednesday to his 67 opening round for a 139, one stroke up on Jim Musille of Mansfield, who came on strong the second day.

Musille, with a 72-68—140, moved up from 15th place to challenge Sabotin, Publinx winner in 1963 and 1966 and last year's Ohio Amateur champion.

Findlay's Terry Grose held third position for two days and has a 70-73—143, with nine golfers tied in fourth position at 144.

Bengtson Sees Packers Winning 4th NFL Title

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Phil Bengtson is a man on the spot.

For the new Green Bay Packers' coach, there seems to be only one way to go, and that's down. But the sages who are predicting the demise of the Packers aren't taking into consideration Bengtsons philosophy. He believes in the status quo.

"We won't be satisfied with anything less than No. 4." Bengtson says, referring to the Packers' three consecutive National Football League championships.

Vince Lombardi stepped out of the coaching post after leading the Packers to six NFL titles and to two consecutive Super Bowl crowns. In nine years, Lombardi's teams won 141 games, lost 39 and tied four, including both preseason and postseason clashes.

Bengtson, who came to Green Bay with Lombardi as his top assistant, has been the quiet man in the background who has shaped the vaunted Packer defense. Last season, the Pack led the NFL in seven defensive categories, not to mention over-all team defense.

Willie Davis, 6-foot-3 and 245 pounds, and Lionel Aldridge, 6-4 by 245, anchor the defensive line. Ron Kostelnik at 6-4, 240, and Henry Jordan, 6-3, 250, provide an agile, mobile and hostile interior.

Top draft choice Fred Carr, 6-5, 240, will get a shot at tight end

The linebackers, considered the finest trio in football, are Dave Robinson, 6-3 and 245; Ray Nitschke, 6-3, 240, and Lee Roy Caffey, 6-3, 250.

Both Herb Adderly, 6-1, 210, starting hs eighth year, and six-year veteran Bob Jeter, 6-1, 205, have been All-Pro picks at cornerback. Willie Wood, 5-10, 190, is another All-NFL performer at safety, aided by five-year veteran Tom Brown, 6-1, 190.

Offensively, the Packers are just as strong.

Quarterback Bart Starr has no peers. Even in what admittedly was an off-year in 1967, Starr completed 54.8 per cent of his passes for 1,823 yards and nine touchdowns.

In last week's College All-Star Game, Starr hit 17-of-23, including 10 in a row, and was "unusually sharp," according to Bengtson.

When injuries slowed the former Alabama star, 13-year vet Zeke Bratkowski came off the bench and did his ususal competent job.

With super back Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor no longer around, super brats Donny Anderson, 6-3, 215, and Jim Grabowski, 6-2, 220, took up the slack. Grabowski and running back Elijah Pitts, 6-1, 205, showed no signs of last year's injuries in the All-Star contest.

Bengtson can also call on fullbacks Ben Wilson and Chuck Mercein and speedster Travis Williams, better known as The Road Runner. Last season, Williams returned four kickoffs for touchdowns, including two against the Cleveland Browns in a single quarter.

Up front, where it counts, Bob Hyland, 6-5, 250, and Ken Bowman, 6-3, 235, will battle it out for the center spot. Whoever wins will be flanked by All-Pro Jerry Kramer, 6-3, 245, and Gale Gillingham, 6-3 by 255, at guards. Bill Lueck, 6-3, 235, also a first-round draft pick, is bidding for a backup spot at guard.

The tackle positions will be manned by Bob Skoronski, 6-3, 250, and 12-year veteran Forrest Gregg, 6-4, 250.

If Starr chooses to move through the air, he can utilize the talents of veteran split end Boyd Dowler, 6-5, 230; flanker Carroll Dale, 6-2, 200; their replacement, Bob Long, 6-3, 190, or tight end Marv Fleming.

Then there's the Packer pride, that intangible that separates champions from second-place finishers.

"There's only one way to go," Bengtson says. "Four in a row. It's unheard of, but I see no reason why we can't continue winning."

Jets Slice Plunkett, Overweight At 330

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

In a crash diet, the New York Jets dropped 330 pounds in one day—and all of them belonged to Sherman Plunkett.

The rotund offensive tackle had played in every game — 70 of them — in the Jets' history in the American Football League but he ate himself out of 71.

"We just had to let him go," Coach Weeb Eubank said of the 34-year-old, 11-year pro football veteran who carries his 330 pounds over a 6-foot-2 frame. "He got too far out of shape.

"Sherman was one of the greatest offensive linemen I've ever coached," added Eubank, who coached Plunkett at Baltimore in the National League. "He rivals Jim Parker, Lou Rymkus and Winston Hill."

But Eubank still ordered Plunkett to report to training camp at 300 pounds. Plunkett, however, came in at 337.

McVay Homers

Rains plagued the Divisional Colt League Tournament at Marion last night, but the East Liverpool All - Stars took a 5-1 lead over Hagerstown before rain caused the game to be suspended after 4½ innings.

Rain delayed the start until 11:30 and the contest was finally called at 1:20 a. m. when fog made play impossible. The game wll be completed tonight at 6 p.m. with the loser then taking on Marion, which edged Newburgh, N.Y. 4-3 in the opener last night.

Randy McVay sparked the East Liverpool effort with a three-run homer. East Liverpool scored all its runs in the first inning. John Haney walked and Kim Kemple and Cecil Barker singled for one run. With two down McVay unloaded a tremendous blast over the fence. Vic Reed followed with a double, Dave Grimm walked and Hap Palmer got a single to score Reed.

Fierly, who beat East Liverpool in a Pony League tournament while ptching for Martinsburg, W. Va. a few years ago, came on in relief and allowed no more hits the rest of game. Palmer yielded only three hits, with Corbin doubling and Hendershot singling for a run in the fourth.

Manager Don Smith expects to use McVay to complete the game tonight.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE

Fans of Ohio U. football know that the Bobcats sport uniforms in green and white, the school colors.

Few, however, know the origin of these colors. Until 1896, OU's colors were light blue and white. That season the Athens school hired Charles G. O'Bleness to coach the football team. O'Bleness, a Dartmouth man, suggested the colors be changed to Dartmouth green and white, and his suggestion was followed. The green and white colors have endured for 72 years.

BILL HESS, current Ohio U. football coach, has had only one losing season in 10 years at the school. That was in 1965, when the Bobcats went 0-10. Hess' teams have lost only 29 games in the other nine years of his tenure.

EITHER OHIO U. or Miami has won the Reese Cup, emblematic of the all-sports championship of the Mid-American Conference, every year since the competition was started in 1956, with the exceptions of 1959, when Bowling Green won, and 1962 when Western Michigan won.

WESTERN MICHIGAN led the Mid-American Conference in attendance last football season with an average of 17,897 a game. Ohio U. was next with 16,234. Following were Bowling Green at 14,830, Miami $14,300, Toledo 13,436, Kent State 12,825 and Marshall 6,020. The conference as a whole ranked 10th in the country with a 13,416 average, a gain of 3.66 per cent.

Brave Rookie Stone Decisions Cubs 10-2

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Young George Stone, two days away from his 22nd birthday, just might have nailed down a permanent job at Atlanta, which is a lot closer to his home town of Ruston, La., than, say, Montreal or San Diego.

"He looked real good to me," Atlanta manager Luman Harris said after the rookie lefty pitched and batted the Braves to a 10-2 victory over Chicago Wednesday night.

"We've got to give him another look or two before deciding on whether to protect him in the draft or not."

Stone, making only his second start of the season, drove in three runs, limited Chicago to six hits, struck out five and walked only one.

"I'd say he passed with flying colors," Harris said.

The league leading St. Louis Cardinals whipped Cincinnati 3-1, Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 6-2 in a late night game, San Francisco nipped Philadelphia 4-3 in a day game and Houston fought off the New York Mets in a game marred by a brawl.

Stone had trouble only with Jim Hickman and Ernie Banks, who hit solo home runs for the Cubs.

And it was his single up the middle with the bases loaded that drove in two runs and broke Ken Holtzman's scoreless inning string at 28. He also singled in a run in the Braves' clinching, five-run seventh inning.

"He's a young man with a good future," Harris said. "We'll have to see some more of him," as reference to the expansion draft to stock the two new teams in Montreal and San Diego.

Ron Fairly and Bob Bailey each drove in two runs and Don Sutton scattered eight hits in Los Angeles' victory over Pittsburgh. Sutton had a five-hitter going into the ninth, when he weakened and finished with an eight-hitter. Donn Clendenon had a homer for the Pirates. The league leading Cardinals, delayed in starting one hour and only 1:56 in whipping Cincinnati. It put them 14 games ahead of the pack and dropped Cincy from second to fourth.

Tim McCarver singled in a Cardinal run in the first and they made it 3-0 in the fifth on doubles by Bobby Tolan and Orlando Cepeda and a single by Phil Gagliano. Pete Rose homered for the losers.

At Houston, the Astros increased a 2-1 lead to 4-1 on Denis Menke's single, Doug Rader's hard-sliding triple and Dick Simpson's sacrifice fly.

The Mets threatened with two out in the ninth before Steve Shea put out the fire.

Mrs. Stoffel Has Net 28 In Golf

Phyllis Stewart won in the B Flight with a 31 net and in the C Flight Gladys Moore had a 28 net and Jane Rudibaugh won by forfeit.

Golf Rained Out, Pickin Places 5th

The second round of the state junior golf tournament at Findlay was canceled by rain yesterday, and in the final tabulation of the first day's results Bill Picking of East Liverpool finished tied for fifth.

Pickin had shot a 76. He will receive a silver bowl for his performance.

W. Staley, Cashdollar Win In Softball Games

Dick Sims was the winning pitcher and Chip Clutter the loser. Cashdollar's edged Shenton's 5-5, with John Sprout the winner and Richard Mountjoy the loser.

Playground Cage League Cancelled

Orioles Win Pair

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Keough and Dave Campbell obviously haven't been around long enough to adjust to 1968's Great Hit Famine.

Keough of Oakland and Campbell of Detroit had a total of six major league at bats between them before Wednesday—all of them belonging to the Tiger infielder.

Today they both have their home runs and Keough, fourth member of Oakland's Arizona State Alumni Association, also has a small spot in baseball's record book.

Keough, called up from the minor leagues earlier this week, became the 37th player to hit a homer in his first big league at bat—the 10th one to do it as a pinch hitter—and helped Oakland defeat the New York Yankees 4-3 in the second game of a Wednesday doubleheader. New York took the opener 3-0.

Campbell, playing in his sixth game, and first as a starter for the Tigers, tagged his first major league hit—a homer naturally—as Detroit defeated Cleveland 6-1.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Boston clipped Chicago 3-2, California dropped Washington 4-2 and Baltimore swept a doubleheader from Minnesota 3-0 and 9-6. Detroit also completed a 5-2 victory over Cleveland in a game suspended after eight innings Tuesday night.

Keough, like teammates Rick Monday, Sal Bando and Reggie Jackson, came to the A's off the Arizona State campus, and was batting .303 at Birmingham of the Southern League when Oakland sold Floyd Robinson to Boston last week and Keough came up.

He got his first major league swing in the eighth inning of the second game with Oakland trailing 3-2 and tagged a Lindy McDaniel pitch into Yankee Stadium's right field seats. That tied the score and two innings later, Jackson, not to be outdone by his old school chum, singled Oakland's winning run home.

In the rain-delayed opener, Mel Stottlemyre won his 15th on a six-hitter with Joe Pepitone's two-run homer providing all the offense he needed.

Campbell's first homer was somewhat less dramatic than Keough's. It came in the eighth inning with the Tigers already enjoying a 4-1 edge.

Detroit packed three runs in the first inning—two of them on Bill Freehan's double. Earl Wilson, with late-inning help from Daryl Patterson, won his 10th and Willie Horton clubbed his 27th home run.

Reliever John Wyatt retired the Indians in the ninth inning of the suspended game to nail down the 5-2 victory.

Ken Harrelson whacked his 29th homer—a two-run shot that led Boston past Chicago. The blow keyed a three-run first inning for the Red Sox and gave Dick Ellsworth enough working room for his 11th victory.

Harrelson, taking dead aim at the Triple Crown, now leads the American League in batting with a .297 mark, in runs batted in with 93 and is second only to Washington's Frank Howard in homers.

Howard smashed his 32nd but it couldn't prevent California from taking Washington. Chuck Hinton, an ex-Senator, did most of the damage, doubling and scoring in the fifth inning and then singling the tie-breaking run home in the seventh after twice failing to sacrifice.

Jim Hardin's six hitter shut out Minnesota in the first game of Baltimore's doubleheader against the Twins with homers by Curt Blefary and Frank Robinson providing the muscle.

In the nightcap, the Orioles just outlasted the Twins with Robinson coming off the bench to touch off a pair of three-run Baltimore rallies. Paul Blair's two-run pinch single and a two-run double by Brooks Robinson keyed the Baltimore comeback.

Tom Cloran Shoots 76, Eight Back

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Lalu Sabotin, the Warren fire captain and two-time former champ, holds the lead by one stroke today at the half-way mark of the 35th Ohio Publinx Golf Tournament.

Sabotin added a two-under-par 70 Wednesday to his 67 opening round for a 139, one stroke up on Jim Musille of Mansfield, who came on strong the second day.

Musille, with a 72-68—140, moved up from 15th place to challenge Sabotin, Publinx winner in 1963 and 1966 and last year's Ohio Amateur champion.

Findlay's Terry Grose held third position for two days and has a 70-73—143, with nine golfers tied in fourth position at 144.

Among the nine is Leo Zampedro of Warren, defending champ. He had a 73 Wednesday when play was stomped for one hour and 20 minutes because of rain.

Others at 144 include Alex Rotar Jr. of Canton, Gary Schaffer of Sandusky and Jim Hager of Mansfield.

Also in the low 30 were Nick Gliatta of Canton at 145, Al Hager of Mansfield at 146, Don Nist of Massillon and Tom Cloran of East Liverpool at 147, and Gary Lucas of Massillon and Larry Weigman of Mansfield at 148.

Bengtson Sees Packers Winning 4th NFL Title

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Phil Bengtson is a man on the spot.

For the new Green Bay Packers' coach, there seems to be only one way to go, and that's down. But the sages who are predicting the demise of the Packers aren't taking into consideration Bengtsons philosophy. He believes in the status quo.

"We won't be satisfied with anything less than No. 4." Bengtson says, referring to the Packers' three consecutive National Football League championships.

Vince Lombardi stepped out of the coaching post after leading the Packers to six NFL titles and to two consecutive Super Bowl crowns. In nine years, Lombardi's teams won 141 games, lost 39 and tied four, including both preseason and postseason clashes.

Bengtson, who came to Green Bay with Lombardi as his top assistant, has been the quiet man in the background who has shaped the vaunted Packer defense. Last season, the Pack led the NFL in seven defensive categories, not to mention over-all team defense.

Willie Davis, 6-foot-3 and 245 pounds, and Lionel Aldridge, 6-4 by 245, anchor the defensive line. Ron Kostelnik at 6-4, 240, and Henry Jordan, 6-3, 250, provide an agile, mobile and hostile interior.

Top draft choice Fred Carr, 6-5, 240, will get a shot at tight end

The linebackers, considered the finest trio in football, are Dave Robinson, 6-3 and 245; Ray Nitschke, 6-3, 240, and Lee Roy Caffey, 6-3, 250.

Both Herb Adderly, 6-1, 210, starting hs eighth year, and six-year veteran Bob Jeter, 6-1, 205, have been All-Pro picks at cornerback. Willie Wood, 5-10, 190, is another All-NFL performer at safety, aided by five-year veteran Tom Brown, 6-1, 190.

Offensively, the Packers are just as strong.

Quarterback Bart Starr has no peers. Even in what admittedly was an off-year in 1967, Starr completed 54.8 per cent of his passes for 1,823 yards and nine touchdowns.

In last week's College All-Star Game, Starr hit 17-of-23, including 10 in a row, and was "unusually sharp," according to Bengtson.

When injuries slowed the former Alabama star, 13-year vet Zeke Bratkowski came off the bench and did his ususal competent job.

With super back Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor no longer around, super brats Donny Anderson, 6-3, 215, and Jim Grabowski, 6-2, 220, took up the slack. Grabowski and running back Elijah Pitts, 6-1, 205, showed no signs of last year's injuries in the All-Star contest.

Bengtson can also call on fullbacks Ben Wilson and Chuck Mercein and speedster Travis Williams, better known as The Road Runner. Last season, Williams returned four kickoffs for touchdowns, including two against the Cleveland Browns in a single quarter.

Up front, where it counts, Bob Hyland, 6-5, 250, and Ken Bowman, 6-3, 235, will battle it out for the center spot. Whoever wins will be flanked by All-Pro Jerry Kramer, 6-3, 245, and Gale Gillingham, 6-3 by 255, at guards. Bill Lueck, 6-3, 235, also a first-round draft pick, is bidding for a backup spot at guard.

The tackle positions will be manned by Bob Skoronski, 6-3, 250, and 12-year veteran Forrest Gregg, 6-4, 250.

If Starr chooses to move through the air, he can utilize the talents of veteran split end Boyd Dowler, 6-5, 230; flanker Carroll Dale, 6-2, 200; their replacement, Bob Long, 6-3, 190, or tight end Marv Fleming.

Then there's the Packer pride, that intangible that separates champions from second-place finishers.

"There's only one way to go," Bengtson says. "Four in a row. It's unheard of, but I see no reason why we can't continue winning."

Pro Golfers Not Happy, But Won't Have Revolt

NEW YORK (AP) — There won't be any revolt of tournament pros against the parent Professional Golfers Association, not this year at least.

"There will be no boycott," said Sam Gates, who represents the touring pros. "We are going to play straight through."

Gates, a New York lawyer, made his statement Wednesday night in Akron, Ohio, after a closed meeting with more than 100 golfers in Akron to compete in the American Golf Classic.

Before the meeting Gardner Dickinson, chairman of the four-man Players Tournament Committee, had termed the situation "grave." The players reportedly are seeking the right to run the $5.6 million tour without interference from the PGA.

"We want to resolve this thing within the framework of the PGA constitution," Gates said.

He planned to meet in New York sometime today with Bill Rogers, the PGA counsel. No time was set, however, and the meeting may be put off for a day or two.

"I haven't anything I can say in the way of a concrete program in the future until I talk to Rogers," Gates said. "We have to have some amendments to the constitution."

The latest threat of a break between the touring pros and the PGA developed Tuesday after an 11-hour meeting between player representatives and the PGA Tournament Committee.

Gates said an impasse developed when the players and the PGA committee deadlocked 4-4 on a resolution by the pros urging a separate sectional play for the touring players.

A counterproposal by the PGA committee was not acceptable to the players, Gates said. Neither Gates nor Dickinson would disclose the nature of the PGA counter proposal.

Leo Fraser of Atlantic City, N.J., secretary of the PGA and slated to succeed Max Elbin of Washington, D.C. as the next PGA president, declared "I don't know what the players want. We can't go any farther than we have. We cannot give the tour away."

Gates said he has recommended that the players consider selection of a commissioner to run their affairs and have complete control of the tour. The PGA has rejected this idea.

IT'S YOUR MOVE. Kris Parsons (left) and Fred Hyder study their next move as Parsons, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of 3053 Curry St. defeated Hyder, 13, to win the championship of the annual recreational checker tournament at the YMCA yesterday. Nine youngsters participated in the tourney.

Another Withdrawal Shakes Montreal Club

MONTREAL (AP) — This city's volatile baseball situation was rocked late Wednesday night by the reported loss of a third financial backer of the new National League franchise.

Robert Irsay, a Chicago air-conditioning executive, was said to have pulled out his support, leaving still greater financial problems for city officials and remaining backers to solve.

A meeting is scheduled at 5 p.m. EDT this evening to search for those solutions.

The Montreal Gazette said Charles Bronfman of Montreal, another backer, said Irsay severed his financial connection with the franchise in a telegram to Bronfman.

Irsay would be the third backer to withdraw. J. Louis Levesque of Montreal and March Bougie of Montreal preceded him.

Bronfman told the newspaper he got Irsay's telegram before a four-hour meeting Wednesday in Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau's office attended by Warren Giles, president of the league, city officials and two Canadian sponsors of the Montreal franchise.

Contents of the telegram, Bronfman said were kept secret from all but those who attended the meeting. He divulged the telegram's content only after being told of comments Irsay is said to have made in Chicago Wednesday to Chicago newspapers and radio stations.

Irsay also is said to have told interviewers that Bronfman and the other Canadian sponsors were pulling out.

The other sponsors are Lorne Webster, Sidney Maislin and John Newman.

Bronfman told the Gazette Irsay's reported statements are "irresponsible ... and quite shocking."

He denied that he intends to pull out of the group. Reached by telephone early today, both Maislin and Newman said they had no comment.

Bronfman said another financial backer easily could be found to replace Irsay.

Neither side would disclose what problems were discussed in Wednesday's meeting, but it is believed that stadium facilities dominated the lengthy discussion.

Giles came out of the meeting almost an hour before Mayor Drapeau and Bronfman and said the city and the backers have to work out a lease for the 25,000-seat Autostade "and it's not appropriate that I be there."

Plans to put a roof over the Autostade, built for Expo 67, is "close to being rejected," the mayor said. "It would be too costly for its purpose. If it could be done for a cheaper price, it would be all right."

Giles didn't appear overjoyed with results of the day's meetings after he came out of the mayor's office and prepared to fly back to New York. He said there wasn't as much accomplished as he would have liked.

He added he thought there would be a Montreal baseball franchise, "but, they have until Aug. 15."

That is the day the initial payment of the franchise—$1,120,000—is due. Bronfman said there will be no extension and none is being sought.

Sports Quiz

Here is a sports quiz to test the knowledge of area sports fans.

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

Jack Vodrey of Park Blvd. was again the winner of the quiz this week, though he missed three questions. The Green Hornet's sidekick is Cato, and Frank Quetot (pronounced Cato) pitches for Chester in the Tri-County league. Larry Wilson is the name of a St. Louis Cardinal star defensive back and the coach of the Dayton Gems in the International Hockey League. The Los Angeles Angels, the first year they were formed, had a pitcher and an outfielder both named Ken Hunt.

Vodrey got the other questions right. Mickey Owen was the catcher and Tommy Heinrich the batter in the 1941 World Series when a passed ball on a strikeout for the game-ending out allowed the Yankees to go on and win the game. Willie Davis is the name of a Dodger outfielder and a Packer lineman, Jim Woods is the name of a former Phillie and current broadcaster, Sam McDowell is the name of an Indian pitcher and an overweight football player cut by the Miami Dolphins, Billy Williams is the name of a Cub outfielder and a National League umpire, Eddie Fisher is the name of an Indian pitcher and a popular singer and Bob Johnson is the name of a Brave infielder and the top draft choice of the Bengals.

In an answer omitted last week the Pirates have signed a 30-year contract to do spring training at Bradenton, Fla.

This week's questions:

1. Who was the thirdbaseman in the Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance infield?
2. Who was the journalist who immortalized the above double-play combination, which in actuality was quite ordinary?
3. Who was the fun-loving infielder of the 1920s that made the Hall of Fame despite a mediocre batting average?
4. Ken Harrelson of the Red Sox was recently subjected to a barrage in the outfield by fans in Detroit. What Hall-of-Famer was subjected to an even worse barrage there during a World Series?
5. Everyone knows the baseball Hall of Fame is at Cooperstown, N.Y. and the football 'Hall' at Canton. Where is the basketball 'hall'?
6. Who is Kristy Pigeon?
7. Who was Solly Drake?
8. Who was the manager of the famous Baltimore Oriole teams of the 1890s?
9. Name three members of this team.
10. What was the nickname of the New York American League baseball team when it first joined the league?

Browns May Keep CFL Star Leigh

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blanton Collier plans to take a good look at a former Continental League player who is trying for a job as a punt and kickoff return specialist for the Cleveland Browns.

Charley Leigh, a 205-pounder, may get his chance when the Browns meet the Los Angeles Rams in a National Football League exhibition game Friday night in the Colliseum.

Leigh, who failed twice to make the Pittsburgh Steelers, played with the Philadelphia Bulldogs of the Continental League and was recommended to Collier by Bob Brodhead, a former CFL player now with the Browns' front office.

"With his play in the Continental League plus a couple of pro tryouts, he has had the equivalence of college experience," Collier said.

"I want to see him in several games. You can't write off anybody who has been running the way he has. He's a tough football player."

Leigh, 22, set a Continental League single game mark in rushing in 1966 with 185 yards and an average of 14.2 yards per carry. Also, he led the league last season in touchdowns rushing with eight.

Citizens of Monaco are forbidden to gamble in the casino.

ro Golfers Not Happy, ut Won't Have Revolt

EW YORK (AP) — There 't be any revolt of tourna- it pros against the parent fessional Golfers Associa- , not this year at least.

There will be no boycott," Sam Gates, who repre- s the touring pros. "We are g to play straight through."

ates, a New York lawyer, le his statement Wednesday it in Akron, Ohio, after a ed meeting with more than golfers in Akron to compete he American Golf Classic.

efore the meeting Gardner kinson, chairman of the -man Players Tournament nmittee, had termed the situ- n "grave." The players re- tedly are seeking the right to the $5.6 million tour without rference from the PGA.

We want to resolve this thing hin the framework of the A constitution," Gates said.

e planned to meet in New k sometime today with Bill gers, the PGA counsel. No e was set, however, and the eting may be put off for a r or two.

I haven't anything I can say the way of a concrete pro- m in the future until I talk to Rogers," Gates said. "We have to have some amendments to the constitution."

The latest threat of a break between the touring pros and the PGA developed Tuesday after an 11-hour meeting between player representatives and the PGA Tournament Committee.

Gates said an impasse developed when the players and the PGA committee deadlocked 4-4 on a resolution by the pros urging a separate sectional play for the touring players.

A counterproposal by the PGA committee was not acceptable to the players, Gates said. Neither Gates nor Dickinson would disclose the nature of the PGA counter proposal.

Leo Fraser of Atlantic City, N.J., secretary of the PGA and slated to succeed Max Elbin of Washington, D.C. as the next PGA president, declared "I don't know what the players want. We can't go any farther than we have. We cannot give the tour away."

Gates said he has recommended that the players consider selection of a commissioner to run their affairs and have complete control of the tour. The PGA has rejected this idea.

Sports Quiz

Here is a sports quiz to test the knowledge of area sports fans.

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

Jack Vodrey of Park Blvd. was again the winner of the quiz this week, though he missed three questions. The Green Hornet's sidekick is Cato, and Frank Quetot (pronounced Cato) pitches for Chester in the Tri-County league. Larry Wilson is the name of a St. Louis Cardinal star defensive back and the coach of the Dayton Gems in the International Hockey League. The Los Angeles Angels, the first year they were formed, had a pitcher and an outfielder both named Ken Hunt.

Vodrey got the other questions right. Mickey Owen was the catcher and Tommy Heinrich the batter in the 1941 World Series when a passed ball on a strikeout for the game-ending out allowed the Yankees to go on and win the game. Willie Davis is the name of a Dodger outfielder and a Packer lineman, Jim Woods is the name of a former Phillie and current broadcaster, Sam McDowell is the name of an Indian pitcher and an overweight football player cut by the Miami Dolphins, Billy Williams is the name of a Cub outfielder and a National League umpire, Eddie Fisher is the name of an Indian pitcher and a popular singer and Bob Johnson is the name of a Brave infielder and the top draft choice of the Bengals.

In an answer omitted last week the Pirates have signed a 30-year contract to do spring training at Bradenton, Fla.

This week's questions:

1. Who was the thirdbaseman in the Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance infield?
2. Who was the journalist who immortalized the above double-play combination, which in actuality was quite ordinary?
3. Who was the fun-loving infielder of the 1920s that made the Hall of Fame despite a mediocre batting average?
4. Ken Harrelson of the Red Sox was recently subjected to a barrage in the outfield by fans in Detroit. What Hall-of-Famer was subjected to an even worse barrage there during a World Series?
5. Everyone knows the baseball Hall of Fame is at Cooperstown, N.Y. and the football 'Hall' at Conton. Where is the basketball 'hall'?
6. Who is Kristy Pigeon?
7. Who was Solly Drake?
8. Who was the manager of the famous Baltimore Oriole teams of the 1890s?
9. Name three members of this team.
10. What was the nickname of the New York American League baseball team when it first joined the league?

IT'S YOUR MOVE. Kris Parsons (left) and Fred Hyder study their next move as Parsons, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of 3053 Curry St. defeated Hyder, 13, to win the championship of the annual recreational checker tournament at the YMCA yesterday. Nine youngsters participated in the tourney.

Another Withdrawal Shakes Montreal Club

MONTREAL (AP) — This city's volatile baseball situation was rocked late Wednesday night by the reported loss of a third financial backer of the new National League franchise.

Robert Irsay, a Chicago air-conditioning executive, was said to have pulled out his support, leaving still greater financial problems for city officials and remaining backers to solve.

A meeting is scheduled at 5 p.m. EDT this evening to search for those solutions.

The Montreal Gazette said Charles Bronfman of Montreal, another backer, said Irsay severed his financial connection with the franchise in a telegram to Bronfman.

Irsay would be the third backer to withdraw. J. Louis Levesque of Montreal and March Bougie of Montreal preceded him.

Bronfman told the newspaper he got Irsay's telegram before a four-hour meeting Wednesday in Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau's office attended by Warren Giles, president of the league, city officials and two Canadian sponsors of the Montreal franchise.

Contents of the telegram, Bronfman said were kept secret from all but those who attended the meeting. He divulged the telegram's content only after being told of comments Irsay is said to have made in Chicago Wednesday to Chicago newspapers and radio stations.

Irsay also is said to have told interviewers that Bronfman and the other Canadian sponsors were pulling out.

The other sponsors are Lorne Webster, Sidney Maislin and John Newman.

Bronfman told the Gazette Irsay's reported statements are "irresponsible ... and quite shocking."

He denied that he intends to pull out of the group. Reached by telephone early today, both Maislin and Newman said they had no comment.

Bronfman said another financial backer easily could be found to replace Irsay.

Neither side would disclose what problems were discussed in Wednesday's meeting, but it is believed that stadium facilities dominated the lengthy discussion.

Giles came out of the meeting almost an hour before Mayor Drapeau and Bronfman and said the city and the backers have to work out a lease for the 25,000-seat Autostade "and it's not appropriate that I be there."

Plans to put a roof over the Autostade, built for Expo 67, is "close to being rejected," the mayor said. "It would be too costly for its purpose. If it could be done for a cheaper price, it would be all right."

Giles didn't appear overjoyed with results of the day's meetings after he came out of the mayor's office and prepared to fly back to New York. He said there wasn't as much accomplished as he would have liked.

He added he thought there would be a Montreal baseball franchise, "but, they have until Aug. 15."

That is the day the initial payment of the franchise—$1,120,000—is due. Bronfman said there will be no extension and none is being sought.

Browns May Keep CFL Star Leigh

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blanton Collier plans to take a good look at a former Continental League player who is trying for a job as a punt and kickoff return specialist for the Cleveland Browns.

Charley Leigh, a 205-pounder, may get his chance when the Browns meet the Los Angeles Rams in a National Football League exhibition game Friday night in the Colliseum.

Leigh, who failed twice to make the Pittsburgh Steelers, played with the Philadelphia Bulldogs of the Continental League and was recommended to Collier by Bob Brodhead, a former CFL player now with the Browns' front office.

"With his play in the Continental League plus a couple of pro tryouts, he has had the equivalence of college experience," Collier said.

"I want to see him in several games. You can't write off anybody who has been running the way he has. He's a tough football player."

Leigh, 22, set a Continental League single game mark in rushing in 1966 with 185 yards and an average of 14.2 yards per carry. Also, he led the league last season in touchdowns rushing with eight.

Citizens of Monaco are forbidden to gamble in the casino.

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

FIRESTONE HAS A NEW TIRE THEY SAY will sweep the market for the 1970's. Its cross section is almost doughnut shaped, rather than round, and it will look about half flat. Said to be advantages.

IF THE ROAD AHEAD ISN'T CLEAR FOR any reason, slow down so you can be ready for the unknown and the unexpected.

THE BEST WAY TO STOP THAT irritating noise in your car is to leave her at home!

GOVERNORS FOR CARS HAVE BEEN ASKED FOR by federal safety department. The industry opposes them saying they are impractical now because back yard mechanics could alter them and make useless.

THAT TWO YEAR OLD CAR OF YOURS TAKES more care and service now than when it was new. So bring it past at AL GREEN Lincoln - Mercury for regular maintenance and repair. Our expert mechanics will put your car in top shape quickly and at a fair cost. Stop and see us very soon!

NOT MORE THAN 2½ percent of today's highway wrecks can be blamed on tires, according to Northwestern University Traffic Institute. How about those wild tire commercials? Mostly bunk!

DUSK IS THE MOST DIFFICULT TIME of the day to drive. Turn on your lights early, so others can see your car coming!

They'll Eat Or Starve

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: What is a mother to do when her husband teaches the children crazy eating habits? I know what made Alphonse nutty — his mother. She stood over the stove 10 hours a day cooking separate meals for every cracked member of the family.

His sister was a vegetarian and his two brothers wouldn't touch fresh fruits or vegetables or fish or chicken. An unmarried aunt who made her home with them lived on carrot juice, wheat germ, yogurt and hard-boiled eggs. His father wasn't crazy, just sick, but he had to eat special foods because of ulcers and diabetes.

When I married Alphonse I knew he would not eat or drink anything white — potatoes, milk, rice, white bread, cottage cheese, whipped cream. The list is a long one. Now our oldest son (age 6) tells me he won't eat anything Daddy won't eat. Our youngest son is only three but he's already pushing away certain foods.

If you have any suggestions please pass them on. I am — COOK FOR A KOOK.

Dear Cook: You can't change Alphonse's eating habits at this late date but you can refuse to knuckle under to the kids and I hope you do, for their sake as well as yours.

Make it clear that they will eat what is set before them and there'll be no substitutes. If they push things away, say nothing. Remove the food from the table without comment. If they are hungry in an hour, tell them, "Sorry, mealtime is over." After a while they'll eat what is served and everyone will be happier.

Needling In-Law

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been married 17 years. He's a lovely man and our marriage is an extremely good one. The tragedy of our lives is that we were never blessed with children. I went to specialists in three cities and was told by all it was extremely unlikely that I would ever have a family.

I'm writing to ask what to do about my husband's widowed sister. Emily comes to our home every Sunday for dinner and never leaves without making some cruel remark about our not having a family. (She never says anything in my husband's presence.) Yesterday Emily looked around at our newly furnished sun porch and sighed, "A home is not a home without children. What a pity you failed George." She quickly added, "I know it's not your fault, dear, but it's a pity nevertheless."

This morning I received in the mail an article from a cheap magazine which said, "A man cannot truly love a woman until she bears his child." There was no evidence of who sent the article but I know very well it was Emily. Incidentally, she was married 25 years and had five children. Her husband drank himself to death and three of her children do not speak to her or to each other.

Shall I continue to burn silently or should I say something to George? — VA OF VA.

Dear Va: The next time your sister-in-law makes one of her darling remarks ask her to please repeat it in George's presence because you think perhaps he might wish to comment. If she's reluctant, keep insisting until she does. If George is the good man you say he is, he'll give his sister a reply that will button her lip for all time.

Pennsylvania Cast Votes In Losing Cause

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— The bulk of Pennsylvania's 64-man delegation backed Nelson A. Rockefeller in a losing cause early today by casting 41 votes for him on the first and only ballot of the Republican National Convention.

Twenty-one of the state's delegates broke with the recognized leadership of their party by giving the victorious Richard M. Nixon their support.

One delegate, Howard Fry of Berks County, cast his vote for Ronald Reagan.

By the time the balloting had reached Pennsylvania, Nixon had 484 votes to only 205 for Rockefeller.

Once Wisconsin's 30 votes put Nixon over the 667 required for the nomination, Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, the delegation chairman, joined with the bulk of the other delegations in casting a unanimous ballot for the former vice president.

Shafer and former Gov. William Scranton, despite the split in the delegation, were quick to pledge their total support for Nixon.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Survival Requires Single 'Commander'

In a survival situation, one must remember that comfort is not essential. With a strong will to live a man can put up with pain, hunger, thirst, dirt, itching, heat, cold and wearin e s s. Those who succeed against such odds are those who believe in their own worth and who accept disaster as something to me met with a calm determination to survive.

Dr. Brandstadt

THE CHANCES of family survival are greatly enhanced if one person takes command. He should make a work schedule that will give no one any time for brooding. He should not conceal the truth about the gravity of the situation but it should inspire hope and dispel fear and feelings of self - pity.

—:—

A GREAT BOON to survival is a knowledge of which parts of what wild plants can be safely eaten. Grass, although low in food value, is good for stopping the pangs of hunger and for its vitamins A, B and C. There are 13 common plants that are often ignored by a starving man that could keep him alive indefinitely. They are arrowroot, purslane, ground cherry, water lily, pigweed, knotweed (avoid the root), dock, hibiscus, hollyhock, rose, sunflower, cattail and plantain.

Q — What is the cause of histoplasmosis? How does it affect one? Is there any cure for it?

A—This is an infection with the fungus. Histoplasma capsulatum. When it lodges in the lungs it causes prolonged fever, shortness of breath, chest pain, loss of weight and weakness. It closely resembles tuberculosis. More rarely it causes ulcers of the mouth. Treatment with the antibiotic, amphotericin B, is effective for all types of this disease.

Q — Is it true that a regular ration of iodine makes the hair thicker? What foods are high in iodine?

A—Iodine is one of the elements essential to the body but one milligram a week is enough to supply all the body's needs. If it made one's hair thicker, thinning of the hair would be no problem in this country with its heavy consumption of iodized salt. Iodine is present in most seafoods but supplemental doses of iodides must be used with great caution or iodine poisoning will result.

Blevins Expects To Fill Twin Role With School, City

Police Lt. Paul C. Blevins, named to the high school faculty Monday night by the Board of Education, expects to fill a twin role as policeman and teacher — at least for the time being.

Blevins, who completed his higher education and obtained a degree while serving as a policeman, was hired by the board to teach social studies at the high school.

He explained that his regular duty shift is on the 4 p.m. to midnight turn and schools dismiss at 2:50 p.m., which would allow him time to fill both posts —provided the city administration does not object. His two regular days off on the police force also fall on school days, helping to ease the problem. He would be in a "double role" only three days out of seven.

A member of the department six years, he was promoted to lieutenant this year. Blevins began his education at Ohio University and received his bachelor's degree at Youngstown University.

The latest fatalities:

Paul T. Allman, 19, of Massillon.

Michael Garrett, 7, Cincinnati.

Charles Aker, 13, Ripley.

Joseph F. Kearney Jr., 20, Mansfield.

The Garrett boy was struck by an auto near his home Wednesday.

Man Fined On 2 Counts

Discarded Ticket Returns To Haunt East End Driver

A discarded parking ticket returned today to haunt an East End man — and cost him an additional $29.50 — as he was taken before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on another traffic charge filed Wednesday.

Thomas Davis of Ohio Ave was arraigned initially on a charge of possessing an open container of alcoholic beverage in an auto. Pleading guilty, he was fined $25 and costs. Officers said Davis was cited at 4:48 a. m. yesterday on Broadway while holding a partially-consumed bottle of beer.

Meanwhile, a parking ticket which had been placed on Davis' car on a Market St. parking lot was found lying on the blacktop pavement. The ticket was turned over to police by a woman who said she saw a man remove the slip of paper from the windshield and toss it on the ground.

Police turned over the ticket to "Meter Maid" Leah Kelly. She filed a charge of overtime parking against Davis, also alleging that he had not paid the penalty for six additional tickets.

Davis pleaded guilty to the lone parking charge and was fined $10 and $7.50 costs. The court was advised he already had made arrangements to settle the other six tickets for the usual $2 penalty at the "Meter Maid" office.

Davis did not appear for a scheduled hearing on the traffic charge yesterday and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. The judge condemned Davis this morning for "showing utter disregard for the court and the police department."

Meanwhile, another motorist was penalized on two charges of operating an unsafe car and a third count of driving a car without an operator's permit.

Ernest B. Lamp, 26, of 339 E. 8th St. was cited on an unsafe car charge Saturday at 6:45 p. m. on Route 30 by the Ohio Highway Patrol, at 8:51 p.m. the same date, he was arrested on an unsafe auto charge on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman Charles A. Winters, who also accused him of driving without a license.

Lamp was fined $10 and costs on the local unsafe auto charge and ordered to pay court costs on the other two counts.

When arraigned Monday, he promised the court he would dispose of the 1959 model auto. In his appearance before Judge Chertoff today, Lamp related he had sold the car for $20.

The patrol alleged that the car had three "bald" tires, no turn signals, no tail lights, no license plate light and a defective exhaust and emergency brake.

Thurman Mayfield of 913 Dresden Ave. was fined $10 and costs on a charge he crashed a stop sign on Hess Rd. in Liverpool Township. He was cited Monday at 10:01 p. m. by Constable Thomas Edgell. The court dismissed a second affidavit in which Mayfield was charged with improper auto registration.

Ike

John, who flew to the Capital from Miami Beach.

Presumably the general was not awakened to be told of the nomination early today of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate.

Eisenhower, who gave Nixon a lukewarm endorsement for the presidency eight years ago after Nixon understudied him through two terms, came out strongly for his former vice president in a hospital news conference several weeks ago.

David Eisenhower, the former president's grandson, told newsmen in Miami Beach that he had been told Eisenhower's condition was "normal for this stage and his progress in satisfactory."

"We expect he'll be confined for another 40 days or so and then we hope maybe we'll get him out of the hospital," David said.

He said he got this information from his father and added that since the general had discussed politics he assumed "he's doing okay."

Eisenhower is being given oxygen continuously in his hospital suite and is being fed a low-salt, liquid diet by mouth.

Visitors have been restricted to the immediate family, including, besides John, the general's wife, Mamie. She has been with him since he was brought to Walter Reed last May.

4 More Killed In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press

Three youths have been killed in the latest series of traffic accidents on Ohio's streets and highways.

The latest fatalities:

Paul T. Allman, 19, of Massillon.

Michael Garrett, 7, Cincinnati.

Charles Aker, 13, Ripley.

Joseph F. Kearney Jr., 20, Mansfield.

Allman was killed and two other youths injured critically early Thursday when their car crashed into a tractor-trailer rig on U.S. 30 about four miles west of Massillon.

The Garrett boy was struck by an auto near his home Wednesday.

The Aker boy died Wednesday after his bicycle veered into the path of a car on Ohio 62 near Ripley.

Kearney was killed when his automobile hit a tree about two miles from downtown Mansfield. He was alone in the car.

Man Fined On 2 Counts

Discarded Ticket Returns To Haunt East End Driver

A discarded parking ticket returned today to haunt an East End man — and cost him an additional $29.50 — as he was taken before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on another traffic charge filed Wednesday.

Thomas Davis of Ohio Ave was arraigned initially on a charge of possessing an open container of alcoholic beverage in an auto. Pleading guilty, he was fined $25 and costs. Officers said Davis was cited at 4:48 a. m. yesterday on Broadway while holding a partially-consumed bottle of beer.

Meanwhile, a parking ticket which had been placed on Davis' car on a Market St. parking lot was found lying on the blacktop pavement. The ticket was turned over to police by a woman who said she saw a man remove the slip of paper from the windshield and toss it on the ground.

Police turned over the ticket to "Meter Maid" Leah Kelly. She filed a charge of overtime parking against Davis, also alleging that he had not paid the penalty for six additional tickets.

Davis pleaded guilty to the lone parking charge and was fined $10 and $7.50 costs. The court was advised he already had made arrangements to settle the other six tickets for the usual $2 penalty at the "Meter Maid" office.

Davis did not appear for a scheduled hearing on the traffic charge yesterday and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. The judge condemned Davis this morning for "showing utter disregard for the court and the police department."

Meanwhile, another motorist was penalized on two charges of operating an unsafe car and a third count of driving a car without an operator's permit.

Ernest B. Lamp, 26, of 339 E. 8th St. was cited on an unsafe car charge Saturday at 6:45 p. m. on Route 30 by the Ohio Highway Patrol. at 8:51 p.m. the same date, he was arrested on an unsafe auto charge on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman Charles A. Winters, who also accused him of driving without a license.

Lamp was fined $10 and costs on the local unsafe auto charge and ordered to pay court costs on the other two counts.

When arraigned Monday, he promised the court he would dispose of the 1959 model auto. In his appearance before Judge Chertoff today, Lamp related he had sold the car for $20.

The patrol alleged that the car had three "bald" tires, no turn signals, no tail lights, no license plate light and a defective exhaust and emergency brake.

Thurman Mayfield of 913 Dresden Ave. was fined $10 and costs on a charge he crashed a stop sign on Hess Rd. in Liverpool Township. He was cited Monday at 10:01 p. m. by Constable Thomas Edgell. The court dismissed a second affidavit in which Mayfield was charged with improper auto registration.

Ike

John, who flew to the Capital from Miami Beach.

Presumably the general was not awakened to be told of the nomination early today of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate.

Eisenhower, who gave Nixon a lukewarm endorsement for the presidency eight years ago after Nixon understudied him through two terms, came out strongly for his former vice president in a hospital news conference several weeks ago.

David Eisenhower, the former president's grandson, told newsmen in Miami Beach that he had been told Eisenhower's condition was "normal for this stage and his progress in satisfactory."

"We expect he'll be confined for another 40 days or so and then we hope maybe we'll get him out of the hospital," David said.

He said he got this information from his father and added that since the general had discussed politics he assumed "he's doing okay."

Eisenhower is being given oxygen continuously in his hospital suite and is being fed a low-salt, liquid diet by mouth.

Visitors have been restricted to the immediate family, including, besides John, the general's wife, Mamie. She has been with him since he was brought to Walter Reed last May.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

A Pillow Stuffing Idea

DEAR FOLKS: Ever try making throw pillows and stuffing them with that shredded foam rubber?

Heloise

Well, a few weekends ago I helped a friend of mine make a bunch of throw pillows. All we could find late that afternoon was the chopped sponge rubber that comes in plastic bags.

I have fought that stuff for years, jamming my hand in the bag, grabbing a handful and transferring it to the pillow. Let's all face it . . . it's a mess.

After about the third pillow, it finally dawned on me — why should I spill half of it in the bathtub: (That's the best place in the whole wide world to transfer feathers or any kind of pillow stuffing so it won't get all over the house.) Why not put the whole kaboodle, plastic bag and all inside the pillow!

We just slashed about two-inch "whacks" along the sides of the bag without even opening the top. Then stuffed the whole thing inside the pillow. That was tht biggest lulu I ever ran across.

For the pillows that only took half a bag of shredded foam rubber, we took the side of our open hand (like karate) and hit the middle of the bag until the foam went down into both ends. Then cut the plastic in two with our scissors and slashed holes in the sides. Inserted the half bag of foam into the pillow and sewed it up.

That seems to be all there is to it, gals.

And better yet, next time I make a bunch of throw pillows for a friend, I'm going to buy plastic bags according to size. It may be a few cents cheaper to get a great big bag full of foam rubber, but the few extra cents you are going to save might save your own "senses" when it comes to stuffing those pillows.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When our new baby arrived, our 18-month-old daughter was still on the bottle.

To avoid a mix-up in nipples and to be sure that the baby got the ones with the smaller holes, I marked the RIM of his nipples with a marking pen.

I use glass bottles for the baby and plastic ones for the older child so she can identify her own easily.

CINDY.

DEAR HELOISE: I use my Meat grinder a lot and always dreaded to wash it.

One day I thought of using a round vegetable brush, but it was too large.

So I took the hammer and gave the brush a whack on its side making the wire oval instead of round.

Now I can push the long, oval brush into the grinder and clean it in a jiffy.

MRS. R. DAVIS.

DEAR HELOISE: I think the hardest thing about ironing is standing on my feet, and the heat. So I wear rubber thongs — whatever they're called — and it's like standing on a cushioned mat. They usually cost about 39 cents at a dime store and it's worth that just for ironing day.

I also found it's much cooler ironing if I wash my hair on ironing day!

MRS. KING BURGESS.

-:-

You just manufactured a human, FREE air-conditoner. No wonder your name is King.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Now that summer is here, I find that if you'll place a piece of dark felt on the dashboard of your car, it cuts the glare and reflection from the sun.

HILDA SILVERBERG.

DEAR HELOISE: When lengthening or shortening a hem line, I cut a cardboard measure the width of the desired new hem.

I use that "magic" white vinegar to press out the old crease and then with the cardboard measure, IRON IN the new fold while the dress is still on the ironing board.

The sewing just seems to skip along.

LAZY DAISY.

The number of South Vietnamese troops reported killed increased slightly over the total for the week beefore, while the number of wounded decreased.

The U.S. Command said 171 Americans were killed in action last week, compared with 193 a week earlier. The number of wounded last week was 1,050, down slightly from 1,086 the week before. Of the wounded last week, 563 required hospitalization.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

A Pillow Stuffing Idea

DEAR FOLKS: Ever try making throw pillows and stuffing them with that shredded foam rubber?

Heloise

Well, a few weekends ago I helped a friend of mine make a bunch of throw pillows. All we could find late that afternoon was the chopped sponge rubber that comes in plastic bags.

I have fought that stuff for years, jamming my hand in the bag, grabbing a handful and transferring it to the pillow. Let's all face it . . . it's a mess.

After about the third pillow, it finally dawned on me — why should I spill half of it in the bathtub: (That's the best place in the whole wide world to transfer feathers or any kind of pillow stuffing so it won't get all over the house.) Why not put the whole kaboodle, plastic bag and all inside the pillow!

We just slashed about two-inch "whacks" along the sides of the bag without even opening the top. Then stuffed the whole thing inside the pillow. That was tht biggest lulu I ever ran across.

For the pillows that only took half a bag of shredded foam rubber, we took the side of our open hand (like karate) and hit the middle of the bag until the foam went down into both ends. Then cut the plastic in two with our scissors and slashed holes in the sides. Inserted the half bag of foam into the pillow and sewed it up.

That seems to be all there is to it, gals.

And better yet, next time I make a bunch of throw pillows for a friend, I'm going to buy plastic bags according to size. It may be a few cents cheaper to get a great big bag full of foam rubber, but the few extra cents you are going to save might save your own "senses" when it comes to stuffing those pillows.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When our new baby arrived, our 18-month-old daughter was still on the bottle.

To avoid a mix-up in nipples and to be sure that the baby got the ones with the smaller holes, I marked the RIM of his nipples with a marking pen.

I use glass bottles for the baby and plastic ones for the older child so she can identify her own easily.

CINDY.

DEAR HELOISE: I use my Meat grinder a lot and always dreaded to wash it.

One day I thought of using a round vegetable brush, but it was too large.

So I took the hammer and gave the brush a whack on its side making the wire oval instead of round.

Now I can push the long, oval brush into the grinder and clean it in a jiffy.

MRS. R. DAVIS.

DEAR HELOISE: I think the hardest thing about ironing is standing on my feet, and the heat. So I wear rubber thongs — whatever they're called — and it's like standing on a cushioned mat. They usually cost about 39 cents at a dime store and it's worth that just for ironing day.

I also found it's much cooler ironing if I wash my hair on ironing day!

MRS. KING BURGESS.

-:-

You just manufactured a human, FREE air-conditoner. No wonder your name is King.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Now that summer is here, I find that if you'll place a piece of dark felt on the dashboard of your car, it cuts the glare and reflection from the sun.

HILDA SILVERBERG.

DEAR HELOISE: When lengthening or shortening a hem line, I cut a cardboard measure the width of the desired new hem.

I use that "magic" white vinegar to press out the old crease and then with the cardboard measure, IRON IN the new fold while the dress is still on the ironing board.

The sewing just seems to skip along.

LAZY DAISY.

One Girl Killed, Another Hurt As Ride Collapses

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two girls attending a community picnic fell 30 feet at Kennywood Park when a Ferris Wheel-like ride they were on collapsed. One girl was killed, the other injured.

A park spokesman said a bolt holding the cage on the "Popover" in which they were buckled apparently snapped.

Killed Wednesday was Nina Rach, 15, of Monongahela. She was dead on arrival at Homestead Hospital. Nancy J. Menendez, 15, of Monessen suffered fractures of both wrists and was hospitalized in fair condition.

The spokesman said the "Popover" is similar to the Ferris Wheel, except that it moves faster.

U.S. And Enemy Casualties Decreased Again Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — Combat casualties among American and enemy forces decreased again last week, the U.S. Command reported, continuing to reflect the lull in major ground fighting in the Vietnam war.

The number of South Vietnamese troops reported killed increased slightly over the total for the week beefore, while the number of wounded decreased.

The U.S. Command said 171 Americans were killed in action last week, compared with 193 a week earlier. The number of wounded last week was 1,050, down slightly from 1,086 the week before. Of the wounded last week, 563 required hospitalization.

The American command reported 899 of the enemy killed last week, the lowest weekly total reported since the first week of January 1967. But the enemy casualty total each week is usually increased considerably in the following week's report as ground sweeps turn up more bodies.

The South Vietnamese command said 250 government soldiers were killed last week compared with 243 a week earlier. The wounded totaled 738; there were 781 the previous week. The number of missing or captured last week was 10, compared with 25 the previous week.

The U.S. Command said the casualty report raised to 26,461 the number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam from Jan. 1, 1961, through Aug. 3, while the total wounded rose to 166,180. The command said 1,187 Americans are missing in action.

Water Lines Meeting Held

Two residents of the area of Lycia - Orion Avenues attended a meeting of the Chester Water and Sewage Board Wednesday night to inquire as to the possibility of obtaining city water.

Charles Thompson and Robert Eddy represented the residents. The board said that all that could be done now is give the area a water "tap" and 50 feet of line. Residents would have to complete the water system at their own expense, it was explained.

Councilman Kenneth Williams, who represents the area, raised the question of fire protection if the water advanced in this manner. He pointed out he also is interested in whether or not the residents would have returned to them in some manner the money they invest.

The Board said it would have installed and finance all the fireplugs at the board's expense and, when and if the system was effective, the residents would be reimbursed a percentage of the investment each quarter until the amounts were repaid. The board would also take over and maintain the system once completed.

Audley Campbell of Plutus Ave., former chief of police, was appointed a "helper" in the Water Department, effective Aug. 15, at a salary of $5,700. An additional $300 will be added to the salary when Campbell receives papers for operation of the water and sewage plants, Mayor Harold Ash, chairman, said.

Supt. Len Cowey was instructed to collect in full — with no partial payments — 42 delinquent water bills amounting to more than $2,500. If payment is not made, service to the residences will be discontinued, Ash said.

Cowey also will take bids and call a special meeting upon receipt of engineers' prints for additional work at the sewage plant.

Firm Continues Survey For New Bridge Location

An engineering survey for the feasibility, location and financing of a new span to replace the Chester Bridge is continuing on schedule, officials of the Steubenville and Weirton Transportation Study (SWATS) were advised Wednesday.

A representative of the West Virginia Road Commission said the Wilbur Smith Associates of New Haven, Conn., retained by West Virginia as consulting engineers for the survey, is compiling data for a report to be filed later this year.

At the SWATS meeting at Steubenville, Levi (Jack) Kimball of the Ohio Department of Highways at New Philadelphia reported routine maintenance is planned for the Chester Bridge. He said the 2½-ton load limit, ordered in January due to corrosion of cables, will be continued.

Crews of the Ohio Department of Highways are currently conducting an origin - destination study in the East Liverpool area to determine traffic flow patterns as part of the bridge survey.

Authorities have indicated the data obtained by the crews will be programmed for computer evaluation and analyzed for use by the department's Bureau of Location and Design.

Sidney Porter and E. R. Chandler of the North Hancock County Development Organization attended the meeting of SWATS.

Two Drivers Post Bond At Lisbon Court

LISBON — Max E. Wade, 48, of Tallmadge, who forfeited a $300 surety bond Tuesday night in mayor's court when he failed to appear on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, posted a $300 cash bond Wednesday evening in the police station.

Wade, arrested July 27, was represented by local counsel who arranged for the cash payment Tuesday with the bondsman before the scheduled hearing. Wade also forfeited a $15 bond on a speeding charge filed at the same time.

Shortly after Wade's counsel paid the $300 yesterday, Melvin G. Beese, 55, of Alliance, cited on a DWI charge, posted a $300 cash bond at the police station. He too had been under surety bond with the same bondsman since being arrested Aug. 3. His hearing had been set for Tuesday but was continued until next Tuesday.

Local police charged both drivers on the results of breathalyzer tests at the Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 here.

Columbiana County Southwest and Northwest Courts will not accept forfeitures in such cases, but Eastern Court does and recently reduced bond for DWI defendants from $500 to $300.

The law provides for a fine, at least three days in jail and suspension of driver's license for at least 30 days in all DWI convictions.

No penalty was noted on the Wade affidavit by Mayor Clyde B. Pike. The question of punishment seems to hang on whether forfeiture constitutes an admission of guilt.

The mayor said he conferred Tuesday with Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi when Atty. Richard Kennedy indicated his client would forfeit, and yesterday with Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis. Pike said he was assured the forfeiture is legal and the only record he was required to make on the affidavit was "no appearance, bond forfeited."

Forfeiture of appearance bond does not remove the charge, the mayor said he was told, and he could order the defendant returned for trial if he thought it necessary.

The unusual rainfall is such a fine mist that it can only be seen when backlighted by the sun. Gently drifting from a cloudless sky, it gives a sensation more of coolness than of wetness.

The temperature of the sun, according to astronomers, is 50 million degrees Fahrenheit. However, our earth receives only about one two-billionth of the total heat radiated by the sun, the rest passing into space.

Water Lines Meeting Held

Two residents of the area of Lycia - Orion Avenues attended a meeting of the Chester Water and Sewage Board Wednesday night to inquire as to the possibility of obtaining city water.

Charles Thompson and Robert Eddy represented the residents. The board said that all that could be done now is give the area a water "tap" and 50 feet of line. Residents would have to complete the water system at their own expense, it was explained.

Councilman Kenneth Williams, who represents the area, raised the question of fire protection if the water advanced in this manner. He pointed out he also is interested in whether or not the residents would have returned to them in some manner the money they invest.

The Board said it would have installed and finance all the fireplugs at the board's expense and, when and if the system was effective, the residents would be reimbursed a percentage of the investment each quarter until the amounts were repaid. The board would also take over and maintain the system once completed.

Audley Campbell of Plutus Ave., former chief of police, was appointed a "helper" in the Water Department, effective Aug. 15, at a salary of $5,700. An additional $300 will be added to the salary when Campbell receives papers for operation of the water and sewage plants, Mayor Harold Ash, chairman, said.

Supt. Len Cowey was instructed to collect in full — with no partial payments — 42 delinquent water bills amounting to more than $2,500. If payment is not made, service to the residences will be discontinued, Ash said.

Cowey also will take bids and call a special meeting upon receipt of engineers' prints for additional work at the sewage plant.

Firm Continues Survey For New Bridge Location

An engineering survey for the feasibility, location and financing of a new span to replace the Chester Bridge is continuing on schedule, officials of the Steubenville and Weirton Transportation Study (SWATS) were advised Wednesday.

A representative of the West Virginia Road Commission said the Wilbur Smith Associates of New Haven, Conn., retained by West Virginia as consulting engineers for the survey, is compiling data for a report to be filed later this year.

At the SWATS meeting at Steubenville, Levi (Jack) Kimball of the Ohio Department of Highways at New Philadelphia reported routine maintenance is planned for the Chester Bridge. He said the 2½-ton load limit, ordered in January due to corrosion of cables, will be continued.

Crews of the Ohio Department of Highways are currently conducting an origin - destination study in the East Liverpool area to determine traffic flow patterns as part of the bridge survey.

Authorities have indicated the data obtained by the crews will be programmed for computer evaluation and analyzed for use by the department's Bureau of Location and Design.

Sidney Porter and E. R. Chandler of the North Hancock County Development Organization attended the meeting of SWATS.

Two Drivers Post Bond At Lisbon Court

LISBON — Max E. Wade, 48, of Tallmadge, who forfeited a $300 surety bond Tuesday night in mayor's court when he failed to appear on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, posted a $300 cash bond Wednesday evening in the police station.

Wade, arrested July 27, was represented by local counsel who arranged for the cash payment Tuesday with the bondsman before the scheduled hearing. Wade also forfeited a $15 bond on a speeding charge filed at the same time.

Shortly after Wade's counsel paid the $300 yesterday, Melvin G. Beese, 55, of Alliance, cited on a DWI charge, posted a $300 cash bond at the police station. He too had been under surety bond with the same bondsman since being arrested Aug. 3. His hearing had been set for Tuesday but was continued until next Tuesday.

Local police charged both drivers on the results of breathalyzer tests at the Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 here.

Columbiana County Southwest and Northwest Courts will not accept forfeitures in such cases, but Eastern Court does and recently reduced bond for DWI defendants from $500 to $300.

The law provides for a fine, at least three days in jail and suspension of driver's license for at least 30 days in all DWI convictions.

No penalty was noted on the Wade affidavit by Mayor Clyde B. Pike. The question of punishment seems to hang on whether forfeiture constitutes an admission of guilt.

The mayor said he conferred Tuesday with Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi when Atty. Richard Kennedy indicated his client would forfeit, and yesterday with Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis. Pike said he was assured the forfeiture is legal and the only record he was required to make on the affidavit was "no appearance, bond forfeited."

Forfeiture of appearance bond does not remove the charge, the mayor said he was told, and he could order the defendant returned for trial if he thought it necessary.

"Liquid sunshine" keeps residents refreshed and cool on Dominica Island in the West Indies, the National Geographic says. The unusual rainfall is such a fine mist that it can only be seen when backlighted by the sun. Gently drifting from a cloudless sky, it gives a sensation more of coolness than of wetness.

The temperature of the sun, according to astronomers, is 50 million degrees Fahrenheit. However, our earth receives only about one two-billionth of the total heat radiated by the sun, the rest passing into space.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our wife and mother Olive M. Downard who passed away one year ago, Aug. 8th.
Our eyes are dry now, but, Our hearts still cry for you, We think of you and miss you, In everything we do. We've learned with patient efforts, To hide the tears that start, But we can't check the longing, dear, That lies within each heart. So futile are the spoken words, Nor flowers give surcease, Only God that knoweth all, Can set our hearts at peace.
Missed by Husband, Children and Grandchildren.

IN loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather. Fred Hilliard on his 56th birthday. Sadly missed by the family.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our wife and mother Olive M. Downard who passed away one year ago, Aug. 8th.
Our eyes are dry now, but, Our hearts still cry for you, We think of you and miss you, In everything we do. We've learned with patient efforts, To hide the tears that start, But we can't check the longing, dear, That lies within each heart. So futile are the spoken words, Nor flowers give surcease, Only God that knoweth all, Can set our hearts at peace.
Missed by Husband, Children and Grandchildren.

IN loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, Fred Hilliard on his 56th birthday. Sadly missed by the family.

Junior Editors Quiz on— ARCTIC ANIMALS

QUESTION: How can animals survive in the frozen Antarctic and Arctic?

ANSWER: The main part of Antarctica is a land mass almost completely covered with ice and snow. It is so cold that there are no animals in the inland parts and almost no plant life. Along the sea coast it is different, for the Antarctic Ocean is rich in the minute plant and animal life called plankton, on which fish feed. Penguins and certain sea birds subsist on the fish, and huge whales live on plankton — the warm-blooded animals keep warm because they are protected by layers of oily blubber. By contrast, most of the Arctic is pack ice floating over the Arctic Ocean. The cold is less severe there. Here, too, there is plankton for fish and whales to use for food. Many seals feed on the fish, and big, white, polar bears live on the seals. In the land part of the Arctic, there is enough vegetation to supply food for reindeer, caribou and musk oxen. Smaller animals are the Arctic hare and lemming; various predators live by catching the plant eaters. All these animals are kept warm by layers of blubber or heavy fur. In summer, many birds nest in the Arctic.
